Sobbing Dies Away
A's and Cardinals
Cattle to the Rescue
One Yom Kippur Lesson

—By Arthur Brisbane—

WALL STREET gentlemen dried their eyes, stopped their deep sobs yesterday, and put stock prices up from one to five points.

The President's speech, to be delivered at Cleveland today, has been sent out, confidentially, to newspapers and news agencies, with PUBLICATION reserved, but no inhibition against showing the speech to tearful stock traders.

The speech, one of sound optimism, based on figures and facts, seems to have comforted the Wall Street sobbers.

George M. Reynolds, head of the big Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago, ended yesterday his 50th year in banking, with this sensible and comforting statement:

"Depressions don't kill people. We are recovering from this depression faster than we appreciate. There is nothing fundamentally the trouble with this country. In a few months the volume of business will startle the nation by its size."

Yesterday 11 of the biggest savings banks in New York city announced a reduction in the interest rate from 4½ to 4 per cent. Money is piling up in the savings banks, interest rates are low, money is "cheap." There is nothing the matter with us except timidity.

"The A's defeated the Cards in the series opener." If you do not know the A's and the Cards, you are one among ten thousand in this country.

The score was 5 to 2, the Athletics beating the Cardinals in the first championship baseball game. President Hoover was there with four Cabinet members to "lend to each victor a cheer."

He stopped off on his way to Cleveland.

Gary Cooper and Lily Damita, names better known in the United States than those of Thales and Pythagoras, were snowbound in the Sierra Mountains, with 200 other picture actors, directors and helpers.

Ralph Bunos, herdsman, agreed to drive 500 cattle over the snow-covered highway, and thus made a path for the imprisoned actors.

That sounds new, and is older than moving pictures by a million years.

The world's roads were marked out originally by wandering animals. Heavy mammoths made paths through thick jungles, savage men followed. Mountain goats, sheep and wild asses marked trails along mountain sides.

Thibetan women carry heavy loads on their heads along trails made by the animals thousands of years ago, at an altitude that make effort, and even breathing, impossible for those not especially trained.

Man's debt to the "lower animals" is great. Tiny creatures built his islands in the Pacific, sheep and horses mad transportation and a settled life, instead of nomadic life, possible.

Man shows his gratitude by killing his friends, the animals, as rapidly as possible. Perhaps that is better for them. Their spirits may come back in a higher form.

The saying in ancient Hebrew writings, "Jerusalem was destroyed because the schools were neglected," could not be said of Jewish inhabitants in New York city now.

Yom Kippur, Day of Atonement, began last night at sundown, with the chanting of the Kol Nidre, and today 400,000 children will be missing from New York city's public schools, absent to observe the holiday.

Jewish children neglect no opportunity for education, which explains a success that puzzles some.

According to the school authorities, 10,000 little Gentiles will also be missing from the public schools, "playing hookey," hoping that their absence from diminished classes will not be observed.

Simple-hearted red men sold Manhattan Island for $24, not suspecting how that island and land adjoining across the East River would develop. New York city, with more than 7,000,000 population, has real state assessed at NINETEEN BILLION, SEVEN HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS, which means that it is worth at least thirty billions.

That is impressive and interesting.

Impressive, and worth remembering is the fact that if the Indians had put their $24 out at 6 per cent with compound interest they would have enough money now to buy Manhattan Island several times over.

The difficulty is that you can't make that sort of compound interest investment whereas you

'Baering' Down On the News

WITH

Arthur "Bugs" Baer

When American motor cars withdrew from Paris auto show it became just a bicycle race.

American cars have mopped up all foreign shows on beauty, endurance and economy. Our space at the motor salon was under a dark stairway. Which is not the place where we do business.

So far as courtesy and consideration is concerned the French should spell salon with two o's.

We have attended those Paris motor shows and an American car has the same standing as old man Harrigan had around the house. When the folks had company the old man stayed in the kitchen.

He had to die to get into the parlor. It hasn't been so long since our champion team of firemen lost a life-saving tournament because a European committee said they were a lot of blooming acrobats.

Competition is only the life of trade until we control the market. Then international goodwill turns sour on the League of Nations' stomach.

They put our big apples at the bottom of the barrel because they're trying to sell their specked ones first.

M'CARTHY MAY LEAD RED SOX

By JOE CASHMAN

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2—Bob Quinn, owner of the Red Sox, today announced that he had offered a blank contract to Joe McCarthy, deposed leader of the Cubs, giving McCarthy the privilege of assuming the managership of the Boston Americans at his own terms.

McCarthy has refused to give a definite answer to Quinn until after he has talked with Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees. It is understood that Ruppert has offered McCarthy $25,000 to take the reins over the Yankees. When Quinn was told this he answered:

"I don't care what Ruppert wants to pay McCarthy. We will pay him more. It is time that the Red Sox regained their place in the baseball sun. Money isn't going to stand in the way. I am going to give Boston another world's championship team. I believe McCarthy is the man to take the helm and I will outbid anyone."

McCarthy has promised to give the Boston owner a final answer tomorrow.

FLOGGED BOY BRUISED, SAYS WITNESS

Gloucester, Oct. 2—[illegible] Muise, 14-year-old Essex high school pupil, who was whipped by his principal and superintendent two weeks ago, still had a black and blue spot on his hip today, a doctor, who was a defense witness, testified in district court.

This testimony was given by Dr. Scott W. Mooring, who examined young Muise before the court session started in the trial of Supt. Roy E. Keller and Principal Irving Stuart, charged with assault on the boy.

Dr. Mooring declared, however, that the bruise could have been caused by sliding on the ball field, and he stated that "a child's flesh bruises more easily than an adult's."

Another defense witness was Eleanor Day, 18, who said she asked Muise if the thrashing hurt him and he replied "No," with a profane exclamation and a laugh. She said he went away laughing.

Miss Lucille Benson, the teacher with whom the boy had the first trouble, also testified that he took the whipping nonchalantly, except that at the start he made a dive at the principal's legs, Stuart catch-

RICH DIVORCEE FIGHTS FOR BABY GIRL

Mrs. Raymond T. Baker, a Daughter of Dodge, Accused by Her Former Husband

Providence, Oct. 2—Alleged neglect of the child by her mother was revealed today as the cause of the dispute between James H. R. Cromwell, son of Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury of Philadelphia, and his former wife over the custody of their eight-year-old daughter, Christine.

The mother is the former Delphine Dodge, daughter of the late automobile magnate, Horace Dodge. After divorcing Cromwell in September, 1928, she was married to Raymond T. Baker, ex-director of the United States Mint.

In Superior Court today the mother's petition to restrain her former mate from removing the child from Newport was heard.

Under the divorce terms the child was to be with her father from Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 2—Another perfect afternoon for baseball. Yesterday was fine. Today is better. Clearer and warmer.

Baltimore Junior American Legion baseball champions were guests of the Athletics management at today's game. Admitting guests to world series games is real generosity. Wonder if there are any future Cochranes and Simmonses in this Baltimore bunch.

Bob Quinn's offer to Joe McCarthy to manage the Sox is the chief topic of conversation in the press box before the game. The outside scribes can't understand how the Fenway "prexy" can afford to outbid the Yanks as he has promised if McCarthy desires.

It is the consensus that McCarthy will make a mistake if he doesn't accept Quinn's offer. He

Second Game Play by Play

FIRST INNING

Cardinals—Douthit hit a high infield fly which Dykes caught. Adams flied to Simmons. Frisch doubled to left. Bottomley flied out to hass. ONE HIT. NO RUNS. NO ERRORS.

Athletics—Bishop lined to Douthit. Adams made a remarkable stop of Dykes' drive over third and threw him out. Cochrane hoisted a home run, his second of the series, over the right field wall. Simmons singled to center. Foxx doubled to center, scoring Simmons. Miller was out on a slow roller to Bottomley. THREE HITS. TWO RUNS. NO ERRORS.

SECOND INNING

Cardinals—Hafey flied to Bishop in short center. Watkins up for the first time in the series hit a home run over the fence, the longest of the series. Mancuso singled through short. Gelbert bounced a single over Bishop's head, Mancuso going to third. Rhem struck out. Douthit hit the first ball pitched to Bishop, a pop fly. THREE HITS. ONE RUN. NO ERRORS.

Athletics—Haas fanned. Boley popped to Frisch. Earnshaw flied to Hafey. NO HITS. NO RUNS. NO ERRORS.

THIRD INNING

Cardinals—Adams flied to Miller. Frisch gets agreat hand from the crowd as he comes to the plate. Frisch reached first on Boley's error, the first miscue of the series. Bishop ran almost to the stands to catch Bottomley's high foul. He caught the ball and dropped it and was not charged with an error. Bottomley then fanned. Frisch stole second, the first steal of the series, and went to third when Cochrane threw into center field. Just as Dykes was about to catch Hafey's foul he fell down. Hafey called out on strikes. NO HITS. NO RUNS. TWO ERRORS.

Athletics—Bishop rolled out to Bottomley. Rhem struck out Dyke. Cochrane was safe on Frisch's error, the first Cardinal error of the series. Watkins tried to make a diving catch of Simmons' liner which went through him for a double, scoring Cochrane. Foxx drew the first pass of the game. Miller singled to center, scoring Simmons, sending Foxx to second, and Foxx went to third and Miller to second when Rhem fumbled Hafey's return throw. Haas lined to Douthit. TWO HITS. TWO RUNS. TWO ERRORS.

FOURTH INNING

Cardinals—Watkins flied to Simmons. Mancuso fanned. Gelbert fanned. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Athletics—Boley, bounced a hit off Gelbert's glove. Earnshaw fanned. Bishop walked on four straight balls. Dykes hit a double off left field fence, scoring Boley and Bishop. Rhem was removed from the box. Lindsey replaced Rhem in the box. Cochrane lined to Gelbert, who ran over to second and touched the bag for an unassisted double play. TWO HITS TWO RUNS. NO ERRORS.

FIFTH INNING

Cardinals — Lindsay singled to right. Douthit popped to Cochrane. Adams flied to Haas in short center. Frisch popped to Dykes. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

Athletics—Simmons flied deep to Douthit. Foxx hit the first ball pitched to Gelbert who threw him out. Miller lined to Douthit. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

SIXTH INNING.

Cardinals—Bottomley flied back of second to Bishop. Hafey rolled out, Dykes to Foxx. Watkins was out, Foxx to Earnshaw on a great play. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

Athletics—Haas fanned. Boley fouled to Bottomley in short right. Earnshaw fanned. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

SEVENTH INNING

Cardinals—Mancuso walked, the first pass that Earnshaw gave. Gelbert rolled to Foxx, who threw to Boley, forcing Mencuso. Fisher batted for Lindsey. Fisher fanned. Douthit flied to Simmons. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

Athletics—Sylvester Johnson pitching for Cardinals. Bishop walked. Dykes sacrificed and was out, Bottomley unassisted. Cochrane walked. Simmons rolled out to Frisch, who threw him out, advancing both runners. Foxx struck out.—NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

EIGHTH INNING

Cardinals—Adams singled to right. Frisch lined to Dykes who threw to Foxx, doubling Adams off first. Bottomley fouled to Dykes. ONE HIT, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

Athletics—Miller struck out. Haas flied to Belbert in short left. Hafey ran to pull down Boley's long drive. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

NINTH INNING.

Cardinals—Hafey grounded to Boley, who threw him out.

Watkins fanned.

Mancuso struck out. NO HITS, NO RUNS, NO ERRORS.

6 HITS ALL EARNSHAW ALLOWS CARDS

By JOE CASHMAN

Shibe Park Philadelphia, Oct. 12—Gilt edge pitching by Swarthmore George Earnshaw and hard, timely hitting by almost every one of his mates, gave the Philadelphia Athletes a 6 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in the second game of the world's series, played here this afternoon before 32,295 fans.

The victory was the second in a row for the American leaguers and made almost prohibitive favorites to retain their world's title.

The Macks didn't look like the better team in the opening clash but they certainly did this afternoon.

GAVE ONLY SIX HITS

Earnshaw was superb. He allowed but six hits, three of them in the second. He fanned eight and gave only one base on balls.

His support wasn't of the best, his mates making two errors behind him, but that didn't bother him a bit. The lone run chalked up by the enemy was a homer by Charlie Watkins in the third, and only once thereafter did the Cards even threaten to score.

Flint Rhem started for the Cards, and lasted less than four innings, during which time the Macks made all their hits, seven in number, and all their runs as well.

LINDSEY DID WELL

Jim Lindsey and Sylvester Johnson finished up.

SHIFTING WIND DRIVES FOREST FIRE TO EDGE OF PROVINCETOWN

COAST GUARD READY TO AID BATTLE

Boy Scouts and Citizens Fight to Check the Flames; Ditches Fail as Guards

Provincetown, Oct. 2—Provincetown battled for its very existence today as a creeping forest fire, fanned by a stiff breeze, plucked at the outskirts of the community.

While coastguardsmen and a body of citizens held themselves in reserve, firemen, other citizens, high school boys and Boy Scouts fought to check the rush of the flames.

The battle line was the New Haven tracks, within a mile of the quaint old town, with its famous summer colony of artists and writers.

ENDANGERED BY WIND

The wind was in a dangerous quarter, and if it increases in intensity grave fears are felt for the town.

Shortly before noon with flames approaching the plant of the Provinctown Light & Power Co., on the outskirts of the town, a general alarm was sounded to townspeople by telephone, asking them to stand by.

Desperate efforts were being made to prevent the flames from leaping the railroad tracks and advancing into the residential district.

In case of a rising wind the reserves were to be rushed to the defenses in a last-minute effort to stave off destruction of the community.

The fire started Tuesday, but was kept in check until the wind shifted from southwest to east early today.

The flames whipped around and roared in the direction of Provincetown, defying efforts of firemen and volunteers.

UNDERBRUSH DRY

Feeding on powder-dry underbrush and dead leaves, the fire raced through the woods, sending up dense clouds of smoke and occasional flashes of flame visible as far as Plymouth, 30 miles away.

Shortly after the shift of wind, the fire warden patrol arrived and took charge of the defenses.

Trenches were hurriedly dug but in each instance the flames leaped them and continued on through the woods.

The defense forces were making their chief stand at the railroad tracks. In case of defeat the town appeared doomed.

Wardens attributed the original blaze to a carelessly thrown cigarette at the eastern end of the cape.

AIRPLANE BOMB FIRES BARN

Madisonville, Ky., Oct. 2 (AP)—Reports that a barn had been fired in the country near here by an airplane that dropped a fire bomb were received at the sheriff's office today.

The barn belongs to James Smith, employed at No. 1 mine of the Ross Coal Company. He estimated his loss at $300.

Reports came from several persons that they heard the plane and traced its movements.

Last July a plane dropped half a dozen bombs near Providence, Ky., where it is estimated $100,000 damage has been caused by violence as a result of labor troubles in the mines, though no damage was caused by that plane.

Weddings Slump in Chicago Depression

Chicago, Oct. 2 (AP)—A sharp drop in the numbers of marriages in the Chicago area was attributed today by County Clerk Robert Sweitzer to depressed economic conditions. For the nine months this year there were 4108 fewer licenses issued than in the same period last year.

Heart Attack Kills U. S. Appellate Judge

Boise, Ida., Oct. 2 (AP)—Judge F. S. Dietrich, 67, of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco, died of a heart attack here today in an automobile in which he started to drive to Portland. He was a graduate of Brown University.

Boy at Play on Track Laughs as Train Runs Over Him

San Francisco, Oct. 2 (AP)—Playing on a railroad track, 5-year-old Herbert Brandt, failed to notice a train rushing toward him yesterday. The engineer jammed on the brakes, but the train passed over the boy. Trainmen ran back and found Herbert sitting up, laughing and barely scratched.

September to June each year and with her mother the rest of the time. She is now with Mr. and Mrs. O. Eaton Cromwell at Newport and should be taken to Philadelphia to have her tonsils removed, according to Cromwell's attorneys.

Judge Blodgett reserved decision, asking the lawyers to try to reach an agreement by Saturday, if possible.

Under the previous custody agreement, it was explained, Mrs. Baker has the right to take the child out of the United States, but if she does Cromwell has the child for two weeks longer.

Three hours' visit a week is allowed the parent not then having custody, and upon the death of one parent, the other has custody thereafter, except that Mrs. Stotesbury, the grandmother, whose husband is a Morgan partner, shall have the child during July and August of each year.

Mayor Mortimer A. Sullivan of Newport and William W. Moss appeared for Mrs. Baker, and Cromwell's lawyers were Arthur Garfield Hays, who assisted in the Sacco-Vanzetti defense, and William P. Sheffield.

141 Leave Wesleyan Due to Paralysis

Middletown, Ct., Oct. 2—One hundred and forty-one students, or nearly one-fourth of the student body, had evacuated Wesleyan University by nightfall last night, because of an infantile paralysis outbreak, which took six lives in Connecticut in the last two weeks.

Cases under treatment in the State now total eight, two more having been reported yesterday by Middletown health authorities. They are: Parmelee Jones, of East Cleveland, O., freshman at Wesleyan, and 9-year-old Edna Granet, of Middletown.

In a statement, Dean William G. Canter of Wesleyan said:

"The situation has been carefully considered by authorities. The best medical advice has been secured, and it is to the effect that the college should not be closed.

"If their parents insist, students will be allowed to leave, but if they do, it must be for the period of two weeks, which constitutes the incubator period of the disease."

At present, there are two cases from the student body in addition to F. J. Lipsky, who died Tuesday. One, Guy Hastings, of South Manchester, seems out of danger, it was reported today.

The scheduled football game between Manchester and Middletown high schools here tomorrow has been cancelled because of the outbreak, it was announced today by Manchester high school authorities.

FATE OF GALLO AND CERO IN JURY'S HANDS

Case Closes With Last-Minute Pleas of Innocence by Accused in Killing

After final pleas of innocence from the two defendants, the jury in the Gallo-Cero murder trial took the case at 1:45 p. m. today.

The prisoners' statements followed a charge of one hour and 50 minutes by Judge William A. Burns. Asst. Dist. Atty. Fred M. J. Sheenan had charged "Gangi Cero and Samuel Gallo have the blood of Joseph Fantasia on their hands."

Cero did the shooting, Gallo inspired it—this was the argument of Sheenan, answering the contention of Cero's counsel that the government had not made them out to be accomplices, but had brought them both into court to have a jury decide which one was guilty.

EVIDENCE RECALLED.

"The evidence shows beyond peradventure of a doubt who fired the shot that killed Fantasia," said the prosecutor.

"There is no disputing the fact that the fatal shot was fired from a Spanish .32 calibre revolver. The man who had that gun on the evidence adduced in this court was Gangi Cero.

"But while he fired the shot, he was inspired if not bribed by Gallo. Both of these men have the blood of Joseph Fantasia on their hands.

CHASED FROM SCENE.

"Gangi Cero was chased from the scene of the shooting, and he admits it. The gun was dropped by the man who ran and nobody saw anybody but Cero running from that place."

Sheenan said the motive for the crime was the slashing of Gallo "by his jilted paramour, Philomena Romano." She gave him a five-inch cut across his face, said Sheenan, with Fantasia sitting in a doorway nearby ready to give her protection. Gallo's hatred over this was increased by Fantasia's attempt at reconcilliation, he declared.

ing him and tearing his shirt. This followed the first slap that Stuart gave him.

The courtroom was crowded again, many of those present being forced to stand along the walls behind the spectators' seats.

As at the first day's hearing last week, the crowd was treated to repartee between Atty. Carlton Parsons, representing Keller and Stuart, and Atty. Clifford Terry for the boy.

Their sallies drew many laughs and brought a warning from Judge Sumner York, who also had to caution the spectators to be orderly.

Joseph A. Muise, a carpenter, father of Ivan, testified his son's side was "redder than beefsteak" after the whipping.

COUNSEL WARNED.

Documentary evidence showing that the school committee on July 21 voted that the school day was from 8:30 to 4 was produced by Louise Burnham, secretary of the committee, and Atty. Terry questioned the authenticity of the date on the paper, which was in ink while the rest of it was in pencil.

"When you saw the boy's body was it redder than my brother lawyer's face?" asked Atty. Parsons of Burnham.

"Not as pale as yours," interjected Terry. "You're talking for the benefit of the newspapers."

"No," said Parsons, "I'm giving you a break. You're parading as the best-looking lawyer in the Gloucester bar."

Atty. Terry: "The little fellow wants publicity."

He dismissed the witness, whereupon Parsons said:

"Well, well, he's made up his mind for once."

RAPS FOR ORDER

"You haven't any to make up," shot back Terry. Parsons made some reply. Terry retorted: "You're a sweetheart."

Parsons: "I'll be scared of you now. I'm always afraid of men who call others sweethearts."

The crowd roared and Judge York rapped for order.

Terry later objected to questions put to Miss Day by the other attorney and Parsons said, with a laugh:

"Aren't you red?"

"Yes, sweetheart," replied Terry, and Judge York warned both lawyers to confine themselves to the trial of the case.

Only two of the Essex high school teachers were present in court today, and as their places were being filled by substitutes there was no holiday for the pupils, as was the case on the previous day of the trial.

POLICE CHIEF SHOOTS BOY IN CHASE

Dash From Tyngsboro Ends in Arlington; Two Lads Had Gun in Car

The shooting of one Lowell youth and the arrest of another in Arlington, following a ten-mile chase, resulted later in a third being taken into custody, charged with unlawful use of four automobiles.

Robert Lester, 17, of Highland ave., was shot and wounded by Chief of Police Gerald Lorman of Tyngsboro, and Arthur Bassett, 15, of Wilder st., was arrested following a wild ride in a stolen car.

Lester was taken to the Symmes Arlington hospital and Bassett brough to Lowell, where his questioning by Lowell and Tyngsboro police resulted in the arrest of Raymond P. Dempsey, 16, of A st., Lowell.

ONE HELD FOR THEFT

Dempsey was immediately arraigned in Lowell court on charges of unlawful use of automobiles and larceny of a set of golf clubs from one of the machines. He was held in $500 for a hearing on Oct. 10.

Bassett will appear in the Lowell juvenile court tomorrow morning.

The police say the three boys worked together or went out in pairs, and that they have stolen a total of seven automobiles in Lowell and vicinity.

ATTEMPTED BREAK

The chase started when Chief Gerald Lorman and Patrolman Arthur Cummings of the Tyngsboro department, patrolling the outskirts of Tyngsboro in the flying squadron machine, saw two young men leave a coupe and attempt to break into a filling station.

The chase continued and when the pair fled through Chelmsford sq., officers of that town fired more shots at them. They sped on.

The chase proceeded along Massachusetts ave. to the railroad tracks of the Boston & Maine Railroad at Arlington Center, where Chief Lorman succeeded in forcing the fleeing pair's car to the curbing.

SCARED BOY GIVES UP

The two young men jumped out and raced down the railroad tracks in the direction of Cambridge. Chief Lorman continued the chase and fired two shots, both taking effect on Lester, who dropped to the tracks.

Bassett threw up his hands and stopped.

The wounded youth was rushed to the hospital and Bassett was taken to Arlington police headquarters. He admitted that he and Lester stole the automobile in Springfield Tuesday night. They admitted breaking into a gasoline station in that city. The stolen car is the property of the Country Club Soda Co. of Springfield.

Police said they found a 22-calibre revolver in the car which Bassett said was the property of Lester.

FIVE KILLED AS HOUSE FALLS

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The sagging foundations of a Greenwich Village rooming house collapsed early today and the timbers crashed in upon 12 sleeping tenants, killing five and seriously injuring seven.

Two of the dead were women. A thirteenth tenant of the building, which was a rooming house for French and Belgian residents of New York, was not in the place when it collapsed.

Within a few minutes after the crash, which reverberated through the winding streets of the neighborhood, police and firemen were lifting the dead and injured from the debris. A dressing station, hurriedly established in a nearby firehouse, gave first aid before the victims were taken to a hospital.

Preliminary examination indicated the collapse was caused by undermining of the foundations during the demolition of four buildings adjoining the rooming house. No precautions had been taken by the wreckers to protect the building it was said, although neighbors had reported several days ago that the walls appeared to be sagging.

Evangelist Killed by Aged Farmer

Searcy, Ark., Oct. 2 (AP)—Rev. M. S. Mason, 50, Springfield, Mo., evangelist, was shot and killed last night by John Miller, 75-year-old farmer, who came here and surrendered.

Whitehead, Coca Cola Heir, Must Name "10 Men"

New York, Oct. 2—Joseph P. Whitehead, heir to the Coca Cola millions, received an order today from the Supreme Court of New York directing him to disclose the identities of 10 men with whom, he alleges, Miss Annette S. Bracy was very intimate.

J. P. Whitehead

Miss Bracy is suing Whitehead for $500,000 for breach of promise. Whitehead answered the suit by charging that Miss Bracy had been intimate with other men, whose initials he revealed. The order issued today directs that Whitehead give specific dates, places and circumstances under which Miss Bracy favored the 10 men with her friendship.

Wife of Ex-Yale Football Star Gets Divorce

Reno, Nev., Oct. 2—Betty Stoddard Lovejoy charged her husband, Winslow M. Lovejoy, captain of Yale's football team in 1924 and now a broker, with mental cruelty in obtaining a divorce decree here yesterday. Mrs. Lovejoy charged that her husband continually nagged and found fault with her.

Mrs. Lovejoy

During 1928 he remained away from home nearly three months she said. Custody of a minor child is given to Mrs. Lovejoy by agreement. The father will have the right to see the boy several times a year. They were married in New York, December 21, 1925.

Johnny Doeg Takes Up Business Life

Newark, N. J., Oct. 2—Johnny Hope Doeg, young Californian tennis champion, who recently defeated Big Bill Tilden for the national singles championship, set out yesterday to conquer the business world.

Johnny Doeg

Johnny reported to work in the business offices of a Newark newspaper, where he will serve a two weeks' apprenticeship in preparation for a job as representative of the paper in the office of a New York advertising agency.

He said most of his time will be given to his work, and that international tennis and championship matches are now things of the past.

Mercedes Gleitz Fails in Channel Attempt

Dover, Eng., Oct. 2—Mercedes Gleitz, former London stenographer and long distance swimmer, failed yesterday in a new attempt to swim the English Channel. Miss Gleitz had been in the water more than four hours when the intense coldness forced her to quit.

Mercedes Gleitz

In 1927 she claimed to have conquered the channel, but there was some question as to the conditions and the Channel Swimming Association decided not to recognize her claim. Previously she had made seven futile attempts. Her husband, Patrick Carey, a Dublin engineer, followed his wife in a boat during her swim yesterday.

Col. Palmer, Hero in Three Wars, Dead

Los Angeles, Oct. 2 (AP)—Col. Guy G. Palmer, 65, retired army officer, died here last night. He served with distinction in the Sioux Indian campaign, won a commission in the Spanish-American War and commanded the 341st Infantry Regiment in France during the World War.

25,000 ALREADY REGISTERED FOR BIGGEST LEGION CONVENTION

OFFICIALS LOOK FOR 200,000

Final Plans for the Parade of 75,000 Will Be Made at Meeting Tonight

By BERT FORD

More than 25,000 registered! And four days to go.

Reaching the planned peak of pre-convention registration today, Legion convention officials today saw the possibility of even more than the 200,000 expected here for Legion Week, breaking all records.

The big influx is expected Sunday in time for the opening day of the festivities the next day, but all week, legionnaires, their wives and auxiliaries, will troupe in.

The nearer New England states are in the majority among the early registrants, but points from the farthest of U. S. possessions and even England are included.

The entry to date surpasses by 15,000, the record of Louisville last year and the early arrivals have been the most colorful and enthusiastic of any conventions, veteran leaders said today.

Notables among today's arrivals included Watson B. Miller, chairman of the national rehabilitation committee; James T. Taylor, vice chairman of the national legislative committee; Miss Charlotte Mears, wounded war nurse, and Oliver Wolcott, son of the late Gov. Roger Wolcott.

A bevy of "novelty" arrivals reached the registration booths, including Frank E. Stuart and Norman E. Griffin of Phoenix, Ari., and Robert Guthrie of Louisville, Ky., who made the long trek on hitch hikes.

BATTLE ON DRY QUESTION

The latter reported the Florida delegation camped near Hartford, Conn., with the banners of various cities well displayed.

Nurse Mears came for the convention from the U. S. Veterans' hospital at Northport, L. I., where she is stationed. During the war she was stationed at Lorne, France, where she was injured in an air raid.

A telegram from James E. Jewell, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was received at nationall headquarters, stating that the venerable veteran would arrive here Sunday afternoon for the convention.

Gen. Henry Gouraud of France, representing the legionnaires of his country will arrive Saturday night, reaching the Back Bay station at 9:05 p. m. The French general will be officially received by Col. William J. Keville, U. S. marshall, and war time commander of the 101st Ammunition Train, 26th Division.

STEER CLEAR OF POLITICS

Gen. Gouraud wil be the convention guest at the Ritz-Carlton hotel.

The anticipated "battle" on the prohibition question caused little concern to National Adjutant James F. Barton today.

The fight was predicted on the resolution of Clement A. Norton, delegate-at-large from Massachusetts, who will propose commendation for the Wickersham committee that reported the 18th amendment unenforceable in many districts.

Adherents urged the passing of the resolution, but opponents saw the injection of politics into the convention, strictly against the Legion constitution.

"All resolutions are automatically referred to committees for proper routing and consideration," Adjt. Barton said.

"Some are referred to the national policy committee that holds its meeting tonight."

He would not elaborate on its probable fate in the latter.

18,000 FROM NEW YORK

His State is sending 18,000 paraders, he said, half of whom will arrive Sunday on special excursion trains. Specially made berets and ties bearing the words "New York" will be worn by the New Yorkers, including 300 postal employe-Legionnaires and 700 members of the police post in New York city. The latter represents half the membership of that post.

Two added committees opened activities today, one for information on colored veterans' organizations and the other for the care of Gold Star Mothers.

The information on colored vets will be handled at W. E. Carter Post headquarters, and an office for the Gold Star mothers was opened at 15 Columbus ave.

Further registrations by mail could not be handled, that branch of the convention workers announced today. The short time would not permit the mailing of badges, tickets, etc., before the opening of the convention.

Meanwhile the stupendous task of staging the greatest parade was under way, with the final meeting of the general committee of 300 scheduled for Gardner auditorium tonight.

The main parade on Tuesday will be 28 miles long and will require eight hours to pass a given point. From 10 a. m. until long after dark it will move through the downtown section.

More than 75,000 will be in the line of march, keeping step to 375 bands and fife and drum corps.

Everything has been pronounced in readiness, or had been pronounced in readiness, until today, when a discovery was made that might have made gray hairs for the committee but for the alertness of an observing citizen.

ARCHES TOO LOW

The 21 arches erected along the route of the parade were found by him to soar only 14 feet from the street, whereas some of the floats reached a greater height.

He notified the city authorities who erected the arches and a hurried call to the contractor brought workmen to raise them three feet higher. The Good Samaritan failed to leave his name.

More than 300 legionnaires and a bevy of State police will assist the Boston force in policing the parade and the handling of 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 persons expected to witness it.

Along the route the members will be walking information booths, ready for queries of all sorts, traffic tangles and directions to visitors. The route will be that of the Tercentenary parade.

BIG FROLIC MONDAY

Monday night the "parade of the wooden soldiers," announced as such by the 40 & 8's, playboy branch of the Legion, will be held as an illuminated spectacle. The chief marshal a task worth at least a Congressional citation, will be Chef de Chemin de Fers, E. Snapper Ingram. Its route will be Beacon st., to Park, Tremont, Stuart, Columbus ave., Massachusetts ave. to St. Botolph st., and disband at the Arena for the "national wreck," the outstanding frolic of the convention.

On the same night a stirring aerial show will be staged over Boston Common and a well-filled program of events of every nature has been mapped out by the veterans.

FIREMEN AID IN LEGION WORK

The best example of the labor of love is demonstrated these pre-convention days by the "SOS department" or the supply depot of the Legion committee that has functioned unseen and unhailed since last May.

Oddly, the committee of four comprises four fire fighters, two from Boston, one from Malden and another from Cambridge.

Thomas J. Mulhern and John A. Connerty of Metropolitan Firemen's Post are the Boston boys. William J. Hopkins represents Malden and Daniel J. Manley the University City.

Untiringly and religiously, the quartet has given up days off since last May in the massive details of preparation. More than 250,000 letters to 10,500 posts went through their hands in the five months.

200 TO ATTEND CANCER CLINIC

New Bedford, Oct. 2—The largest demonstration of a cancer clinic in United States medical history will take place tomorrow and Saturday at St. Luke's hospital here, with leading physicians in attendance. Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood of Baltimore, an authority on cancer, will head the gathering, called for research purposes.

Tomorrow night Dr. Bloodgood will conduct a public meeting at which motion pictures of cancer cases at Johns Hopkins Hospital will be exhibited.

Dr. George Gey of the Carean Cancer Research Institute of Johns Hopkins University, and Dr. Robert Greenough, president of the Massachusetts Medical Society, also will deliver addresses.

Saturday more than 100 cancer patients at the hospital will be treated.

THREE SNATCH GIRL'S PURSE

Police were hunting three men today who snatched the purse of Miss Pauline Kerrigan of Monadnock st., Dorchester, in Cushing ave., near her home, and escaped with $5 and private papers.

The trio, described as youths between 20 and 25, escaped in an automobile, the registration of which was furnished police by Miss Kerrigan.

Marathoner DeMar Quits Melrose A. C.

Keene, N. H., Oct. 2 (AP)—Clarence H. DeMar, noted marathon runner, announced today he would no longer run under the colors of the Melrose (Mass.) American Legion Post. DeMar also said he would not attend the dedication of DeMar Athletic Field at Melrose, Oct. 8.

Henceforth, DeMar said, he will run unattached. He is entered for the Oct. 13 marathon between New York city and Portchester, N. Y.

In announcing his withdrawal from his previous affiliations, De Mar pointed out that he has not resided in Melrose for more than a year. He is an instructor of printing at the Keene Normal School.

Wm. J. Hennessey Is Dead in New Britain

New Britain, Ct., Oct. 2 (AP)—William J. Hennessey, 33, a member of the advertising staff of the New Britain Herald, died today. He had been in ill health for about a year. Mr. Hennessey, a native of Springfield, Mass., had been connected with newspapers in that city, Boston and Hartford.

Two Killed While Working at Still

St. Louis, Oct. 2 (AP)—Sam Therina drove up to the City Hospital today, seriously wounded from machine gun bullets, and told the police Peter McTigue, one of the "Cuckoo Gang," and William E. Boody, had been killed in an attack on a still near Valmeyer, Ill.

U. S. TREASURY SURPLUS DROPS

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Treasury finished the first quarter of the 1931 fiscal year with a surplus of $52,292,255, approximately $3,000,000 less than the surplus for the same period of the 1930 fiscal year.

Total receipts were $868,940,213. Expenditures for the three months aggregated $816,647,958.

Receipts were about $150,000,000 less than collected in the first quarter of 1930 while expenditures were $150,000,000 more. The chief difference in the expenditures was in the sinking fund, to which was added only $65,000,000 this year, as compared with $236,864,000 last year.

Legion Guest Blames Racial Jumble for Divorces

By FRANCES L. BAIRD

America leads the world in divorce chiefly because her population is the fusion of so many different races, temperaments and creeds that working out a basis of mutual understanding becomes too great a strain on love.

No less an authority than Lady Edward Spencer Churchill, aunt of Winston Churchill and the Duke of Marlborough, so declared upon her arrival in Boston as a guest of the American Legion Auxiliary. She is president of the British Legion Auxiliary. With Lady Churchill came Mme. Julie Masaraki of Poland, president of the International Fidac Auxiliary; Mme. Bremard, president of the French Fidac and Mme. Le Davillac, assistant secretary of the French branch.

EARLY MARRIAGES

Marriages last longer in England because the average couple are of the same race and traditions, and because English wives are not spoiled by sentimental husbands as in America, Lady Churchill explained.

Out of her own experience and observation, both here and abroad, Lady Churchill advised early marriages for happy unions. She said she had been married "out of the schoolroom before my ideals were colored by the world."

Mme. Masaraki joined Lady Churchill in a vigorous protest against the "short term marriages" advocated recently by the Dean Inge and asserted that the finest career any girl can choose is marriage and motherhood.

Mme. Masaraki paid tribute to the progressive spirit of the American women.

"In America every woman is queen; in Europe every man is king," she said.

OPERATES MILLS

In her flight from marauding Bolsheviki in her native Poland, Mme. Masaraki saved only her diamond ear rings and matched pearl necklace, which she hid in the rosettes of her garters. Her vast estates near Warsaw were stripped of valuables and her jewels and art treasures sent to the Communist Museum.

Mme. Masaraki now operates two woolen mills in Warsaw and has extensive real estate in a summer resort on the Baltic Sea.

Malaga Tied Up by New General Strike

Gibraltar, Oct. 2 (AP)—Another general strike has been declared at Malaga, Spain, with all business halted, it was learned today. A strike earlier in the month was begun by dock workers.

COOLIDGES WED 25 YEARS AGO

Northampton, Oct. 2—Although Saturday is the 25th anniversary of the marriage of former President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, no special plans for its observance have been made, it was learned here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge will attend the American Legion convention, which opens in Boston next week. It appeared probable today that they would leave for Boston Saturday.

The Coolidges were married in Burlington, Vt. At that time he was a young lawyer here, and Mrs. Coolidge, the then Grace Goodhue, was a teacher in the Clark School for the Deaf.

Thief Has a 4-Day Start on Salem Chief

Salem, Oct. 2 (AP)—It looks like Police Capt. Gideon Pelletier will have to come back from his vacation a few days early if the confidence man who "gypped" Mrs. Alexander Tetrault is to be apprehanded.

Mrs. Tetrault reported to the police last night that she "had been gypped of $1900," but told the authorities that she would talk to no one but Capt. Pelletier, who is scheduled to return from his vacation next Monday.

Dirigible Tested for Flight to India

Cardington, Eng., Oct. 2 (AP)—The dirigible R-101 returned here today, after a night trial lasting about 15 hours. The airship is expected to start a flight to India during the week-end.

New Bedford, Oct. 2—Indications are this will be the poorest scalloping season in years. The opening price has been around $4.50 a gallon, but the scarcity may boost this.

Toads Get Meal of Flies After Fast of Three Centuries

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 2 (AP)—Three small toads apparently suffered no pangs of indigestion today after partaking of what archaeologists believed was their first meal in more than 300 years.

The toads, found near Gate, Okla., by J. B. Thoburn, state historical society curator, while excavating in an Indian mound, were fed yesterday. They were not eager for food, apparently, after their fast of undetermined length, but ate when food was placed in their mouths.

Dr. Frank Brooks, biologist at Oklahoma City University, classified the toads as belonging to the pelobatidae family and to the genus scaphiobus.

As the three toads do not conform in description to the one species listed in scientific catalogues, Dr. Brooks said it was barely possible they belong to a hitherto unknown branch.

No opinion was expressed by Dr. Brooks as to how long the toads had been buried or as to whether they could live if buried 300 years. Thoburn, however, was vigorous in defense of his estimate.

Pope to Pick Next Cardinal from U. S.

Vatican City, Oct. 2—The next American cardinal will be from the United States, and from "an archdiocese toward the West," informed Vatican observers say today.

Pope Pius XI., considers that the Atlantic seaboard of the United States is now quite liberally supplied with "princes of the church" in the persons of Cardinals O'Connell, Dougherty and Hayes, respectively Archbishops of Boston, Philadelphia and New York, it was said.

DRIVER HELD AS TIPSY IN CRASH

One man is under arrest, two persons were injured and two machines were badly damaged when a truck driver is alleged to have crowded a coupe against a telegraph pole in Main st., Wakefield, early today.

Maurice H. O'Connell of 79 Myrtle ave., Wakefield, the truck driver, was arrested, charged with driving while under influence of liquor. He was badly shaken in the crash and had to be attended by a physician at police headquarters. He will be arraigned today.

Herbert D. Wilson of Washington st., North Reading, operator of the coupe, was also shaken up and his machine badly damaged. The crash took place near the A. G. Walton estate.

FAIR OAKS FARM RAZED BY FIRE

Providence, Oct. 2 (AP)—Fair Oaks Farm, homestead of Mrs. James Bradley on the Louisquesset Pike, Lincoln, since 1864, was razed by a spectacular fire early today. Damage to the building and many antiques will total thousands of dollars.

Mrs. Bradley was carried to safety and, due to her age and the fact that she was recovering from a broken arm, was brought to Rhode Island Hospital here.

DROUTH CURBS LAWRENCE AND LOWELL MILLS

The drouth that his caused the Merrimack river to drop to its lowest point in years threatened today to close the big textile mills of Lowel land Lawrence.

Officials of companies controlling the waterpower supplying the mills in both cities today ordered drastic curtailment of power drawn from the river.

DEPARTMENTS CLOSE

Several departments of one Lawrence mill were forced to close this morning, other mills were running on low auxiliary power and several faced the prospect of shutting down completely tonight until there is a heavy rain and the river rises.

About a dozen mills in each city feel the effects of the curtailment. The number of employes affected, or likely to be affected could not be determined because of the reduced production schedules upon which all of the mills have been running.

WORST IN 50 YEARS

In Lawrence, the most serious emergency' in 50 years exists according to officals of the Essex Co., which controls the water power of the north and south canals below the dam.

The company is allowing only a fifth of the normal water flow to go over the flash boards of the dam into the canals and after an emergency meeting today officials ordered that no water power at all be drawn from the south canal until further notice.

At the same time a 50 per cent curtailment in water power taken from the north canal was ordered.

This curtailment caused the closing of several departments of the Lawrence Duck Co., in Union st., on the north waterway.

FAR BELOW NORMAL

There is very little water coming down the river, and although the deficiency does not show at the dam because the flow has been stopped at the flashboards, the canals are four-fifths below their normal depth.

Drastic curtailment in the amount of water available for Lowell industries has been ordered by the Locks & Canal Co., and it is the sharpest cut that has been made in 17 years.

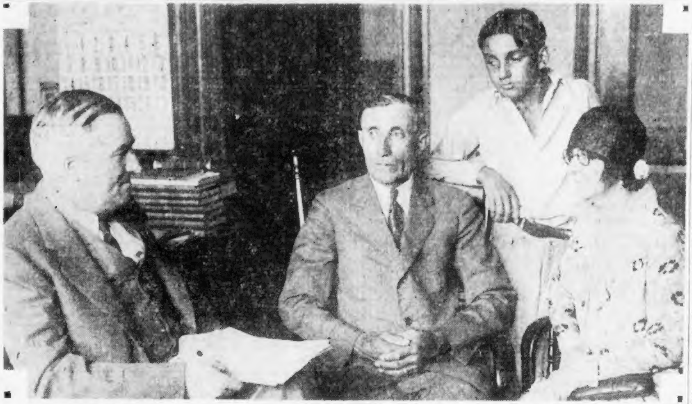
Reduction in the water available for mill power purposes was made necessary by the rapid shrinkage of the water level in the mill pond above the Pawtucket dam on the Merrimack river, Locks and Canals officials state, and there is no way of telling when the curtailment will be revoked.

LACK OF RAIN BLAMED

The mill pond is gaining slightly because of the curtailment, but this is only an artificial gain, inasmuch as in Nashua and Manchester, N. H., the situation is serious and there is but very little water coming down the river.

The extreme low water is due to the lack of rain. During September the rainfall was but 0.983 inches, whereas normal for the month, based on a 76-year average, is 3.348 inches. The rainfall deficiency for the first nine months of the year now is within a fraction of a foot.

Schoolboy Flogging Case Aired in Court Again



CLIFFORD TERRY JOSEPH MUISE IVAN MUISE MRS. MUISE

BEFORE MR. AND MRS. IVAN MUISE, parents of Joseph Muise, flogged Essex schoolboy, took their boy to Gloucester court today, where charges of assault against Superintendent of Schools Roy Keller and Principal Irving Stuart are being heard, they conferred with their attorney, Clifford Terry. This picture shows the group in conference before going to court to retell the story of the whipping the lad received. (Staff photo.)

PASTOR FOUND GUILTY OF CONTEMPT

San Francisco, Oct. 2 (AP)—The California Supreme Court, in holding the Rev. Bob Shuler, militant Los Angeles preacher, guilty of contempt, decided the constitutional guarantee of free speech does not protect a citizen when he comments on pending court cases in an attempt to interfere "with the orderly administration of justice."

The decision, handed down yesterday, upheld the conviction and punishment of Shuler for criticising Superior Judge Marshall McComb of Los Angeles on his conduct of the trial of Jacob Berman and Ben Getzoff on charges growing out of the Julian Petroleum Corporation collapse several years ago.

The Los Angeles Superior Court sentenced Shuler to 20 days imprisonment and fined him $100. Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal, South, served 15 days of the sentence and then appealed, contending that he had not committed contempt because his comments were made out of court and that the Los Angeles tribunal was without jurisdiction.

The Supreme Court upheld Shuler on one of the four counts on the ground that in one case his criticism had been delivered after the trial in question had closed and the court's decision rendered. Having served the time required to three counts, Shuler may go free by paying the fine. His attorneys announced he would do so.

14 Miners Killed in English Blast

Walsall Staffs, Eng., Oct. 2 (AP)—Fourteen persons were killed today in an explosion in the Grove colliery at Brown Hills.

Cruel Wife Spoils Hubby's Dumplings, Is Divorced

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 2 (AP)—Charles W. Brown, who says he is an expert dumpling maker, appeared in superior court, seeking a divorce.

"My wife, Rose, made me do all the cooking," Brown testified. "And she never was so happy as when telling me what a poor cook I was.

"One day, your honor, I was making dumplings. I was happy because I knew they would be great. And then Rose came in and lifted the pot lid and the dumplings went flat."

The judge raised his hand.

"My good man, say no more. Lifting the lid on a pot of dumplings is an act of cruelty."

Brown was awarded a divorce and the kitchen utensils.

Field and Bride on Flying Honeymoon

Cairo, Oct. 2 (AP)—Marshall Field 3d, and his bride, the former Mrs. Dudley Coats, left here today on a honeymoon trip in their own amphibian plane for Nairobi, where they expect to arrive October 6, then go on a hunting trip.

M. & M. to Fix Rates on Rayon Products

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Merchants & Miners Transportation Company was authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission today to establish rates on rayon, synthetic fibres or yarn made from solutions of modified cellulose, and not fabrics, from Chester, Pa., to New England and intermediate destinations.

Crust of Dandruff quickly dissolved!

It's so Easy! Make Scalp Healthy; Give Hair New Lustre and Vigor!

One after another a million men and women have made this discovery for themselves; that this simple method does dissolve the crust of dandruff, put the scalp back into the pink of condition; make the hair soft, lustrous, thick and vigorous.

Why experiment? The example of this great multitude of people points the way to the quick, sure way to be rid of dandruff and the many hair worries it causes!

Get a bottle of Danderine from your drug or toilet counter today. Put a little on your brush each time you dress your hair. Penetrating to the head, its soothing aid soon has an itching, feverish scalp cool, comfortable, healthy. The crust of dandruff simply melts away.

Dandruff is unsightly; and it is the proven cause of premature grayness; baldness; dry, brittle, dull hair. When the scalp is free from this irritating scurf, Danderine soon has the hair back in condition; soft, glossy, thick and abundant.

Start on Danderine today and end hair worries. A thirty-five cent bottle is enough to demonstrate its remarkable merit!

Pianos To Loan FREE

Frankly, we have too many pianos now in stock. Of course, we would like to sell them. Some new, some used instruments. Every piano in the sale will be sacrificed at a price almost unbelievable. The slashing reductions on Grands, Players and Uprights, should cause many to be sold immediately. All pianos not sold outright will be placed in the homes of families interested in owning a piano in the immediate future, particularly homes where there are children. You must call at the store to file your request.

Positively No Charge of Any Kind

We, of course, reserve the right to select the homes in which the pianos are to be placed and they may be used indefinitely until we need them.

LETTERS FROM BOSTON AMERICAN READERS

Letters from readers are welcomed. Letters should not exceed 250 words, should be written on one side of paper, and must bear writer's name. Names will be omitted in publications, if requested. Address Editor, Boston American, 5 Winthrop sq.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Editor Boston American:

In regards to your Readers' Column I wish to state that if it were on a page more in the front of the paper it would get a better advertisement.

My father, and also some friends of mine, have written a number of articles in your paper, and I know a great many people do not notice the column and so do not read it.

Now, owing to the fact that there is always a few very interesting items in the column, I wish that you would find a way to put the letters from American readers on either page two, or the last page, as these two pages are read by all the people.

I want to say that I think you have done a great aid to the people when you printed those letters on compulsory insurance. It will be a great help in beating those robbers who take all and give none.

In conclusion, I wish to ask if you would start a drive on the machines that pull up on the left hand side of the road and park. It is a bad practice, and should be stopped. If they were all given a ticket they would cease doing such things.

Declares Hoover Has Not Helped Jobless

Editor Boston American:

Allow me to say a few words about this serious unemployment problem. In view of the wide unemployment in every part of the country the time is evidently ripe for putting this principle into effect.

Whatever the causes of unemployment, it is the duty of municipal, states and federal governments to take immediately some remedial action. Every man who is ready and is sincerely willing to work has a perfect right to a job. He has a right on regular wages to meet constant obligations. He is entitled to wages not only to meet pressing needs but to allow him sufficient to give his family the common decencies of life. Can you, Mr. Editor, or any one else tell me for goodness sake what Mr. Hoover is doing about this unemployment. In what measures is Mr. Hoover trying to relieve unemployment?

Mr. Hoover in his speech of acceptance on August 11, 1928, recognized this when he said:

"There is no guarantee against poverty equal to a job for every man."

And again Mr. Hoover in his speech at Newark on Sept. 17, 1928, stated:

"I wish to lay down the proposition that the very prerequisite, the very foundation of economic progress to our industrial and business employes is full and stable employment."

And again Mr. Hoover stated after the Wall Street crash on Nov 15, 1929:

"The postponement of construction during the past months, including not only buildings, railways, merchant marine and public utilities, but also federal, state and municipal public works provides a substantial reserve for prompt, expanded action."

This statement was universally commended. What has been done? Nothing! If the people would demand that the civil authorities will enter upon a program of public works. In all parts of the country we need more public buildings, more highways, bridges and tunnels, better streets and sidewalks, more parks, playgrounds, etc. Consequently, if the state has not got the jobs to hand, let it make the jobs.

Come on, for goodness sake Mr. Hoover, don't let this country fall away to ruin and destruction, do something for this unemployment.

FREDERICK J. SHORT.

Thirty Years' Changes in Nation Noted

Editor Boston American:

What happens in 30 years? In 1900 there was no such word as "radio" on human lips. You never heard of chauffeur for an auto. People were talking of a horseless carriage.

You never twisted your tongue with that word aviator. There was no income tax or surtax. Doctors did not talk of insulin, for they did not know of its existence. On the farms there were no tractors. The Federal Reserve system was in embryo.

There were no chain stores, oil-burning engines, no primaries to bother politicians, and no World Court or League of Nations to make you cough with hesitating words about them.

There was no Volstead act. There were only 15 amendments to the Constitution of the U. S. in 1900.

Women did not smoke then. The hair was not bobbed. Who ever heard of a permanent wave in 1900? There was no flapper flapping around, no jazz buzzing in your ears, no bootlegger, no racketeer, no rum runner, no hijacker, no traffic lights, no short skirts, no synthetic gin and few women doctors.

We live in a diferent age today with high blood pressure, fallen arches, birth control, etc.

Times have changed and we change with them but not for the better.

N. H. JONES.

Wishes Mr. Hearst Would Talk More on Radio

Editor Boston American:

Many of us gathered in my home the other evening heard the address of Mr. Hearst over the radio. I take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of what he said. It was direct, compact and interesting. He spoke so well that we all wished he would again venture on the radio.

Many of us, before this, knew little about this great publisher, which he is called in one of the recent books published in this country.

The clearness of his statements as well as the manner in which he put them would make him a popular speaker over the radio, for I was much surprised after listening to him. I got an idea that business men are hard to listen to.

I hesitated about sending this letter to your paper because it was our general impression of Mr. Hearst and what's the use of writing about it? But then I am sending it upon the basis that when a person does a good thing he ought to be encouraged to do more.

THREE WOMEN SLAIN BY MAN

Williamson, W. Va., Oct. 2 (AP)—Three women lay dead today, while State police, piecing together the story of a triple tragedy, said William C. Adams, captured in the mountains two miles from here, had confessed he slew them and was "looking for two men" when he was apprehended.

Adams saw his estranged wife, Mrs. Flossie Adams, 29, and her aunt, Mrs. Cynthia McGuire, walking on the street here yesterday and attempted to talk to his wife. A quarrel ensued and, police said, Adams drew a pistol from his pocket and shot both women, then went to the home of Mrs. John Campbell, his wife's mother, and killed her.

State Joins City to Relieve Jobless

Thorough study of the unemployment situation in Massachusetts was agreed upon by the State Department of Labor at a conference called yesterday by Comm. E. Leroy Sweetser.

Committees will be appointed to obtain data as to causes, and to make recommendations as to how more people can be profitably employed.

Meanwhile, Boston, headed by Mayor Curley and assisted by more than 350 civic leaders and economic experts, is striving to do something about the situation, which the mayor last week described as "getting worse!"

At a luncheon next Thursday in the City Club the mayor's $25,000,000 program will be considered. This calls for construction of street widenings in the next 25 years to meet traffic demands on the city for a full century.

The legislative committee on municipal finance will be called to the meeting. The committee next year will consider the bill seeking State authority to conduct the improvements at a cost of not less than $1,000,000 for the 25 years.

RAILS PERILED SAYS BANKER

Cleveland, Oct. 2 (AP)—Fred W. Sargent, president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company, told members of the American Bankers' Association at the closing session today the government's transportation policy threatens the future welfare of railroads.

He said profits of the railroads have been nibbled away constantly by rate reductions.

Considerable quantities of freight have been lost by the railroads in diversion of traffic to inland waterways, he said, with competitors of the railroads subsidized by taxpayers' money.

Sargent said railroads are one of our largest contributors toward prosperity.

The subject of government confiscation of the railroads through these practices, he said, demands "the honest, fair and clear thinking of the business men of America."

Fred I. Kent, director of the Bankers Trust Co. of New York, blamed political agitation over our agricultural situation for the stoppage of the normal flow of grain from this country, resulting in a surplus in this country.

Morrows End Year at Head of United Cigar

Throughout October the United Cigar Stores Company is celebrating its first anniversary under the management of the Morrow brothers. The United policy of creating new sales and merchandising plans which have given better service and values to their customers is gaining favor with the public, and is reflected in the ever-increasing volume of sales. When it is considered that the company controls more than 3500 retail outlets, giving steady employment to approximately 12,000 wage-earners, it is easy to visualize the tremendous part played by the Morrow organization in the marketing of the 7,000,000,000 cigars and 119,000,000,000 cigarettes manufactured last year for the American market.

Ford Lays Stone for German Plant

Cologne, Germany, Oct. 2 (AP)—The cornerstone of the new Ford automobile factory here was laid today by Henry Ford himself, who amused assembled dignitaries by removing his overcoat in order to seize the trowel and put the stone in place in a workmanlike manner.

Mayor Adenauer remarked establishment of the plant signified "forward, upward on the road to progress."

Pilot of Glider Gets Food From Motorless Craft High Above

Elmira, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—A glider pilot received food on the wing here today for the first time in history. Jack O'Meara, Akron pilot, went aloft in a glider and by means of a weighted fishline lowered luncheon to Wallace Backus of New York when the latter's sail plane was more than 300 feet below.

CHINESE FIRE ON U. S. BOAT

Shanghai, Oct. 2 (AP)—Red marauders fired on the U. S. S. Luzon, flagship of the American Yangtse river patrol, with field guns and machine guns near Yochow, Hunan province, today, but were repulsed when the Luzon opened up with her three-inch guns.

Rear Admiral Thomas T. Craven, commander of the patrol, was aboard the Luzon, which was not hit. The attack came from the shore.

The Americans brought machine guns into action to supplement the fire from the larger pieces. The Reds were silenced.

This is the second time the Luzon has drawn rebel fire in recent weeks. She was attacked 25 miles above Wusueh, Hupeh, September 16.

Boxer Fined for Row After Crash

Frank Williams, who said he was making a trip to the Middle West to fill a boxing engagement, left Malden District Court yesterday afternoon with $25 less for traveling expenses. He was fined for assault on Arthur Woodman, of Medford, following a collision in Medford.

Mass. Mother Knew Best

WISE mothers find the things that keep children contented, happy, well. Most of them have learned they can depend on one thing to restore a youngster's good nature when he's cross, fretful, upset.

The experience of Mrs. Vernon McGregor, 15 Maplewood Street, Boston, is a typical one. She says: "I have used California Fig Syrup with Kenneth and Leonard since they were just tiny babies. Whenever they're the least bit constipated or restless I give them a little. It has them comfortable, happy, well in a jiffy. Their splendid condition proves I knew best when I decided to use this wonderful preparation with them."

Physicians endorse the use of pure vegetable California Fig Syrup when bad breath, coated tongue, dullness, feverishness, listlessness, etc., show a child's bowels are in need of help. Weak stomach and bowels are toned by its gentle aid; appetite increased; digestion and assimilation are so assisted that weak, undernourished children quickly improve in weight, strength and energy.

The genuine always bears the word California. So look for that when buying. All drugstores have it.

Apologetic Bandit Gives Banker 15-Mile Walk

Conway, Kan., Oct. 2 (AP)—Kidnaped and forced to walk 15 miles by a bandit who wounded his wife and then apologized for the trouble he had caused, R. C. Webb, cashier of the State Bank here, was safe at home today.

Mrs. Webb opened a door of their home last night, striking and accidentally discharging the pistol of one of two bandits about to enter the house. She was wounded in the arm.

The armed bandit forced Webb to accompany him to the bank and hand over $800 in cash.

Webb told officers his captor had forced him to accompany him on foot.

Greet Social Workers at Hospital

MRS. W. W. VAUGHAN DR. RICHARD C. CABOT MRS. NATHANIEL THAYER

A RECEPTION was given yesterday in the out-patient department of the Massachusetts General Hospital to members of the American Association of Hospital Social Workers, who are in Boston to celebrate the silver anniversary of the inauguration by Dr. Richard Clarke Cabot of a scoial service department at this hospital. Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer and Mrs. William W. Vaughan shared honors at the tea table.

Swampscott Clubwomen Plan Minstrel Show

A minstrel show will feature the opening meeting of the Swampscott Woman's Club next Monday afternoon, and club members will "don the cork" in the realism of art and for the special entertainment of the membership.

Those "end men" will be impersonated by Mrs. Alice Sloan, Mrs. Margaret Fisher, Mrs. Anna Place, Mrs. Eva Brown, Mrs. Ruby Dow, Mrs. Marie Thomas, Mrs. Annie Davis and Miss Bess Bartlett.

A specialty number will be the particular contribution to the afternoon program by Mrs. Jean Connelly and the Swampscott school orchestra under the direction of Miss Ruth Melville. Mrs. M. C. Griffin, another club member, is planning something of her own.

Mrs. Edith Fenelon has charge of the various novelties. Hostesses for the day are to be Mrs. Robert Blood, second vice-president; Mrs. Mildred Nelson, recording secretary, and other members of the executive board.

The business session will be presided over by the club president, Mrs. Joseph H. Gough.

Hospital Fund for Edwards' Memorial Has Been Completed

The endowment fund for the bed in the Children's Hospital of Boston memorializing Mrs. Clarence R. Edwards, the first president of the Past Presidents' Association of the American Legion Auxiliary, is complete, Miss Eugenie M. Foss, president of the group, announced at a meeting at the State House.

During convention week of the Legion and Auxiliary, a check for $1000 will be presented, it was stated. Mrs. Edwards was one of the outstanding auxiliaries of the Commonwealth. She was the first president, also, of the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of Massachusetts, now headed by Miss Anna M. Mannion.

Y. W. C. A. Lectures to Open Wednesday at Club Building

A series of lectures on current books, the first to be held next Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, is to be sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association with John Clair Minot, literary editor, in charge.

Current biography, poetry, fiction, and non-fiction, will be discussed. Mr. Minot will be presented by the general educational department of the "Y," directing this fall 114 daytime and evening classes. They range all the way from "dress secrets" and "everyday law" to "God in everyday life."

Members of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs are especially invited to enroll for the eight lectures.

St. Vincent's Guild Announces Dates of Monthly Meetings

The monthly meeting of St. Vincent's Orphan Guild will be held the first Friday of every month at the home, 45 Guyette rd., North Cambridge, Mrs. Joseph Eichorn, president of the guild, announces. They are scheduled for 2 p. m., after which social hours will afford the members pleasant exchanges.

State Federation Broadcast to Be on WBZA Next Thurs.

Mrs. Leon E. White, radio director of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, announces a change of day and station for the federation broadcasts. They are to take place every Thursday morning from 11:30 a. m. to 12 through WBZA.

At the broadcast next Thursday, Seton Hall Blackington will talk on "The Romance of News Gathering," this under the direction of the department of press and publicity. Then will follow 10 minutes musical program after which Mrs. Arthur W. Crockett, fifth district director, at 11:50 will send out an air message on "Loose-Leaved Minds."

Mrs. Carl Schrader Directs Meeting of State Federation

Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, new president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, presided over the first fall meeting of the official parents of 150,000 Bay State clubwomen.

The meetings are to be held on the first Thursday of every month until next May when the annual get-together takes place at Swampscott. This year the Federation executives meet at the Y. W. C. A. Clarendon st. building, having changed from the Hotel Vendome.

With new plans and ideas outlined by the new president, Massachusetts club officials will start the season fresh and firm, and well on the road to greater club achievements.

Arkansas Woman Is Prominent Among A.L. Conclave Delegates

Among the visitors to Boston next week for the annual convention of the American Legion Auxiliary, is one of the foremost child welfare workers of the country. She is Mrs. Ruth McCurry Brown of Little Rock, Ark., who arrived here with the Arkansas delegation as their best bet for presidential honors.

Her career of service was cradled and for the most part "developed" in work for the American Legion Auxiliary, local, state and national. Nine years ago Mrs. Brown was appointed by national American Legion officials to organize the Arkansas Auxiliary department.

After bringing the membership to more than 1000 she presided over the organization convention in Little Rock, in 1922, at which time she was elected first national committee-woman of the organization, with added appointment as the first department executive secretary.

Cambridge Woman Granted Divorce

Mrs. Frances M. Boyle, 22, of Belmont, whose husband, James J. Boyle, 31, of Cambridge, was sentenced to a year in the house of correction after he was found guilty in Middlesex Criminal Court on a charge of slashing her face and arm with a razor blade, was granted a divorce on the ground of cruelty by Judge Arthur E. Beane in Middlesex Probate Court at East Cambridge yesterday.

Judge Beane also awarded custody of two small children to Mrs. Boyle, who at present is living with her parents in Belmont. The suit was uncontested.

Fur Jackets Take on a New Meaning

—By ANN ARDEN

(ANN ARDEN broadcasts latest style news over WHDH every Tuesday and Thursday at 11 a. m.)

IT SEEMED like an expensive fashion when it first came out—the vogue for wearing a cunning little jacket with a skirt and blouse, or with a tweed dress under it. Yet dozens of young fashionables stretched their allowance to get one.

• • •

AND NOW they've found that it isn't extravagant at all—for it can be worn with several dresses, if you choose your clothes cleverly. Tweed, jersey, knitted skirts, all appear at their best beneath a jacket of lapin, kid, or some more precious fur, such as Persian lamb. You can start with a suit and make up further ensembles, or buy a jacket alone and do the whole thing yourself!

• • •

IT IS a smart, jaunty style to wear to football games, and equally suitable for trotting about town. The youthful outfit pictured has an attractive color scheme in its frock—canton crepe toned maroon red, with groups of pleats in skirt, and a bolero top. The jacket is of beige lapin, seamed to hug the waist, its peplum flaring about the hips, and slightly longer in back. The sleeves fit the wrists, the double collar may be worn close about the throat—and a belt of brown leather marks the waistline.

• • •

THE MAROON felt hat is tucked symmetrically, and banded by grosgrain ribbon. Beige gloves are worn and brown kid pumps.

• • •

IN BUYING a fur jacket great care must be given to the dress worn. The straightline coat, which is held in around one, reminds one somehow of the things that Molyneux makes. So, to be in the best tradition, the skirt which shows below the jacket may be pleated widely all around or just have a few pleats at one side.

• • •

THE JACKET that is fitted in a bit, so that the hips are molded, looks well when the skirt is made of a series of gores, or when it flares slightly from the hips. The jacket that is belted, with a peplum effect, may have either a straightline skirt, or again one that flares. This type of ensemble is very becoming to the slender woman, either tall or short.

ANN ARDEN will answer questions concerning clothes, social customs or fashions generally. Address your questions to the Boston Evening American or the Boston Sunday Advertiser or to Station WHDH.

GOVERNOR AIDS HEARST FETE IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Oct. 2 (US)—Governor Emmerson, on behalf of the State of Illinois, has extended his whole-hearted support to the patriotic demonstration to be held here October 9 in honor of William Randolph Hearst.

Having designated Lieut.-Gov. Fred E. Sterling to represent him in the bestowal of tributes to the publisher, the Governor took occasion to comment on the recent action of the French government in having ordered Mr. Hearst to leave France in retaliation for his expose of the secret Anglo-French naval treaty.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Governor Emmerson's message read:

"Expulsion of William Randolph Hearst from France is an act of official pettiness which, in my opinion, is not representative of the real feeling of the French people.

"It is in direct contradiction of American ideals of freedom of the press and is not justified by the facts in the case.

"Under the circumstances, his ejectment is a reflection, not on him, but on the government of France.

"Such action will not deter the American press from taking a firm stand on international matters in which the welfare of the United States is concerned."

INSULL AMONG GUESTS

Samuel Insull, among an imposing list of civic and business leaders, accepted an invitation during the day to serve on the reception committee to greet the official guest of the city and county on his arrival.

The Republican county central committee, headed by Chairman B. W. Snow, met with Mayor Thompson today to pledge its co-operation to make the event an unprecedented one.

"It will take the parade, which will accompany Mr. Hearst around the boulevard system two hours to pass a given point," said the mayor to the Republican committeeman. "Already 3500 cars are scheduled for the caravan. Arrangements have been made to accommodate yourselves and such of your people as may also desire to pay tribute to this distinguished American."

Maj.-Gen. Frank Parker, commandant of the Sixth Corps area, will be in charge of the many military units which will participate in the exercises. Infantry, cavalry, artillery and tanks will take part.

Twelve fife and drum corps from the American Legion asked to be included in the program.

CITES CURLEY'S LETTER

Mayor Curley of Boston, who, as head of his city, was official host to Mr. Hearst at the Boston Tercentenary, wrote Mayor Thompson yesterday, in part:

"It was my honor and pleasure to entertain William Randolph Hearst during the ceremonies incident to the recent Boston Tercentenary. He proved a most welcome and valued guest.

"Your personal telegram to Mr. Hearst is capital in its tenor relative to the action of the French office of Foreign Affairs in declining to allow Mr. Hearst to remain within the French republic.

"The treatment of Mr. Hearst in France was a sad departure from the chivalry which this nation claims for itself and an astonishing departure from the international principles of the Marquise de Lafayette, who drew his sword for the United States upon the very foundation of our republic.

"I am only too pleased to allow your quotation of my statement relative to Mr. William Randolph Hearst as 'a real, worth while defender of American principles.'"

French Absurd in Hearst Case, Says Texas Publisher

New York, Oct 2—Marcellus E. Foster, Houston (Tex.) publisher, who arrived today in the French liner Ile de France, is not going back to France until her attitude toward America changes.

A frequent visitor to France and an admirer of that country, Foster said he had noticed suspicion and distrust there toward Americans for the first time. Hereafter, he resolved, he will confine his travels to England and Germany.

"I do not know what has happened to France," Foster said today, "but the spirit of the people has changed. They are no longer kindly and hospitable, but seem to regard Americans as invaders.

"The France of today is rich and prosperous, and with this has come a haughty and contemptuous spirit.

"I know of nothing more absurd than the exclusion of William Randolph Hearst. But the action was indicative of the French people of today.

"I say this with regret, for I have always loved the French and their beautiful country. This time they made me feel as if we were not wanted. When people do that, there is nothing to do but stay away."

"The Seriousness of Guarding the delicate nose and throat membranes"

Says

BRIG. GEN.
WALTER C. MONTGOMERY

Sanitary Inspector, with rank of Colonel, and later Divisional Surgeon in the 27th Division in the World War in France. Awarded Distinguished Service Medal (U. S.) and Croix de Guerre with Palms (Belgium) and other medals for war service in France.

"The greatest triumphs of medicine will be in the direction of public education on the importance of preventive measures. And in this connection I cannot lay enough emphasis on the seriousness of guarding the delicate nose and throat membranes and accessory sinuses. Your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos, I regard as a laudable effort on your part to give the great army of American smokers the benefit of recent scientific conclusions."

FinalCooking Session Friday

Friday, October 3, is the final day of the Martha Lee Cooking School, which is being held under the auspices of the Boston Evening American and Sunday Advertiser in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Statler.

Without exaggeration, it has been the most successful class conducted during the four years that the Boston Evening American has offered this service to New England housewives.

LECTURES ON RADIO

Martha Lee and Mrs. Cross are well known to thousands of housewives all over New England, and those who lived too far away to be present in person enjoyed the lectures and charming personalities of these genial ladies over the WLEX hookup, broadcast every day of the four-day session.

The programs have been most successful and interesting, and every one who had a pencil in her possession found herself in popular demand as recipe after recipe and household hints of value were revealed by Mrs. Cross.

The program for tomorrow, the last day of the sessions, is as follows:

DEMONSTRATION
Stuffed Salmon Steaks
Imperial Salad
Apricot and Prune Bread
Watermelon Surprise
Chocolate Fudge Cake
Essentials in Making Good Tea
Assorted Sandwiches

The doors will open tomorrow at 1 o'clock and the classes will begin at 2 o'clock. All who have not so far attended the lectures and demonstrations are urgently invited to do so if at all possible.

Oven Cookery Economical

When I was a little girl, oh, yes, I can still conjure up the memories from out of the dim past, baking day was the most fascinating day of the busy week. It was the one day, outside of Sunday, that the gas oven was really used, and then it was filled to capacity with breads and coffee cakes and pies enough to last the entire week. And in those days if the bread happened to be a bit hard by the end of the week, we were told it was good for our teeth and would make our hair curl!

Later, when I became interested in the inner workings of the kitchen, I inquired why the gas range was only used on baking day and was told emphatically that it was very much cheaper to do the cooking on top of the stove than in the oven. I questioned that then and today I know better. The old idea that top stove cooking is the only method to be followed has lost its prestige, and I personally am very glad.

Top-stove cooking has its merits, there is no question about that, but it is much more interesting to sit in the living room and read a book, entertain the children or play with the puppy, and not have to keep your nose tilted at an angle to get the scent of scorched food, knowing that your meal is safeguarded by the Robert-Shaw oven heat regulator.

These oven heat controls that are a part of each Glenwood Insulated Gas Range, have made a wonderful change in our cooking methods.

Feet Demand Good Shoes

Anything you can do to increase your sense of comfort and well-being in this age of dash and hurry and nerve strain puts you "one up" in the game of competition—sports, business or social. That's why Mrs. Lilla Pauline Cross, efficiency expert and home economics authority, endorses Grover's shoes so readily for all purposes that demand smart and comfortable footwear.

One of the major gifts at the Martha Lee Cooking School at the Hotel Statler this week will be two pairs of Grover's Fashion-Ease Shoes, given through the courtesy of Grover's Shoe Shop, Inc., at 159A Tremont st., Boston.

In these you can walk to your feet's content, and feel fresh and fit at the end of a long, hard day.

Friends Beans Are Popular Everywhere

Customs change slowly in New England and the majority of those boasting Yankee lineage still have baked beans for Saturday night and warmed over beans for Sunday morning with melting-in-butter fried brown bread on the side. Beans are such a satisfying and satisfactory food when they are baked, and mixed in the Boston way with brown sugar and molasses and a delicious piece of pork!

A real friend of the New England housewife, and housewives from Maine to the Golden Gate are Friend's oven baked beans, a generous can of which will be found in each of the 25 market baskets given away each day at the Martha Lee Cooking School in the Hotel Statler Ballroom this week to lucky women. Friend's beans have a reputation for popularity with New England cooks.

They may be heated in the can before opening, or turned into a frying pan in the usual Sunday morning manner, and heated and served with Boston Brown Bread.

Mash one cup of cold Friend's beans and season to taste with salt, paprika and a few grains of mustard. Add one tablespoon of Chili sauce and mix well. Lay a piece of boiled ham on a square piece of buttered toast. Spread with mayonnaise, then with the bean mixture. Lay on another piece of ham and top with another piece of buttered toast. Cut in triangles and serve with a sweet pickle.

Washer Sold at Low Price

Those who attended the Martha Lee Cooking School in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Statler Tuesday and Wednesday heard Martha Lee and Mrs. Cross emphasize the importance of [illegible] short [illegible] in the heavy part of housework.

To illustrate more clearly the possibilities of automatically run equipment, Mrs. Cross demonstrated the Kenmore Electric Gyrator Washer, loaned by Sears, Roebuck & Co. for the four days household economics display at the Statler.

This really beautiful piece of kitchen equipment would be a source of pride to any woman, for its porcelain enamel tub with the splash proof rim, compact swinging Lovell wringer and self-oiling bearings make it a piece worthy of the finest surroundings.

The price of $[illegible], with the privilege of small monthly payments at a slight additional carrying charge, is the lowest ever placed on this machine. It represents a saving of from $35 to $50 for [illegible], plus a 30 day free trial in your home, and an unconditional guarantee.

Marshmallow Recipes

Thoughts of marshmallows usually bring memories of singed fingers and wads of sticky sweetness slightly blackened on the end of a stick. This is the crudest possible use for these delicious, and at the same time practical sweets. Next time you have baked apples, hollow out the core and fill with cut marshmallows, put bits of butter on top, add water to the pan and bake until the apples are tender, basting frequently. Just before removing from the oven, place a whole marshmallow on top of each apple and brown.

This is only one of a hundred new and different ways to use the ever favorite marshmallow. A can of them will be found in each of the 25 market baskets given to guests at the four-day sessions of the Martha Lee Cooking School at the Statler Hotel this week. For the other 99 recipes, drop a line to the Campfire Corporation, 804 Main st., Cambridge, Mass.

Easy Way to Clear Your Soup Stock

To clear soup stock, allow the white and shell of 1 egg to each quart of stock. Stir constantly until the boiling point is reached, let boil 5 minutes without stirring, add ½ cup cold water, let stand 5 minutes without boiling; then strain through cheese cloth placed over a fine strainer.

Clarifies Fat

To clarify fat, cut up a peeled raw potato and lay on top of the cold fat. Heat very slowly until the potato has browned, then strain through cheese cloth placed over a strainer.

Ice Cream Cake Award Is School Feature Today

A feature of today's program at the Martha Lee cooking school at the Hotel Statler will be the presentation of a Hood's famous ice cream cake to some fortunate guest in the audience. Members of Martha Lee's cooking class during the spring sessions will remember the delicious ice cream cakes demonstrated by Mr. Koofkorn of the H. P. Hood Co.

These cakes are made to order by the H. P. Hood Co. and delivered to your home in a carton packed with dry ice, which keeps the contents [illegible] for 12 hours.

One of [illegible] will be presented [illegible] at [illegible] the school [illegible] Hotel Statler.

Here is the way COOKING SCHOOL EXPERTS make tea!

★Look for this Map of India on the package of tea you buy!

INDIA TEA

For making tea that surpasses your ideal in flavor, richness and alluring bouquet, try this method:

FIRST: see that the water you use is thoroughly boiling... not just steaming.

SECOND: warm the tea pot by rinsing it with scalding hot water.

THIRD: put a level teaspoonful of India Tea into the tea pot for each person to be served... and one for the pot.

FOURTH: pour the boiling water on the tea leaves and replace the cover of the tea pot.

FIFTH: allow the tea to brew for five minutes. No less! For it takes fully five minutes to draw out the flavor of fine tea. At the end of five minutes your tea is rich, full-bodied, and flavorful... ready to serve!

MOST IMPORTANT: be sure to remove the tea leaves from the liquid at the end of five minutes. You can either pour the tea off in another tea pot or if you use a teaball take the ball out of the pot.

Cooking School Note

In the cooking school conducted under the auspices of the American in the Statler Hotel Ballroom Mrs. Lilla Pauline Cross stresses modern methods [illegible] Naturally she uses and [illegible] Crisco the modern shortening

How an Irishman glorified the Irish potato

Just the other evening I ran across this interesting recipe for Potatoes O'Brien and the story of its origin:

O'Brien, so the story goes, was chef at Jack's, a restaurant famous for its good food back in the days when New York was small enough that you sometimes met a friend on the street. And he originated Potatoes O'Brien—a favorite dish in hotels everywhere today.

If you've thought that Potatoes O'Brien were too complicated to make at home, you'll be glad to know how easy they are—and how good! Fried in Crisco, a fat so sweet and fresh that it tastes good all by itself, potatoes really taste like potatoes.

POTATOES O'BRIEN

Dice cold boiled potatoes. Mix them with chopped raw bacon, onion and pimiento. Fry in Crisco in a frying pan as you would hashed brown potatoes. Stir occasionally until partly brown over the bottom, double over like an omelet and serve on the platter in omelet shape.

The secret of an omelet's rise

Here's an omelet that has a success hint wrapped up in it. It's browned on top of the stove and then popped into the oven to [illegible] so that there's no chance of its falling. And, of course, the delicate, fresh laid flavor of the eggs is preserved when you fry in Crisco—a cooking fat that tastes good just as it comes from its airtight can.

SUCCESS OMELET

5 eggs (separated)	Few grains pepper
1 teaspoon salt	Few grains cayenne
5 tablespoons hot water	1 tablespoon Crisco

Beat egg yolks until thick and add salt, pepper and cayenne—and hot water. Mix well. Fold in lightly the stiffly beaten whites until thoroughly blended. Melt Crisco in an iron frying pan or omelet pan. Pour in the egg mixture and spread evenly. Cook over a slow fire, moving the pan occasionally so as to distribute the heat evenly. When a delicate brown underneath, put in a moderate oven (350° F.) and bake 10 or 15 minutes or until top is firm. Fold and serve on a hot platter. Garnish with parsley. As a change from plain omelet, just before serving fold in the omelet jelly, or hot green vegetables such as peas or asparagus.

ALL MEASUREMENTS LEVEL. Recipes tested and approved by cooking authorities. Crisco is the registered trademark of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Company.

©1930 P. & G. Co.

Taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Crisco's sweet, fresh flavor will tell you why things made with Crisco taste so much better.

"43,040 housewives like you helped to perfect BOND Bread"

—says Mrs. Lilla Pauline Cross at the American Cooking School

BOND BAKERS asked housewives themselves what made bread home-like. And 43,040 housewives sent samples of their best home-baked bread to prove that home-like texture and flavor depended upon the quality and purity of the ingredients used, and upon thorough baking. Year in and year out, adherence to the example of these housewives has made Bond Bread the most-asked-for loaf in the world.

After all—there is no bread like

Among the invited guests

October 19th, 1784, was a gala day in Boston. Lafayette, the mighty hero of the Revolution, was the city's guest.

In the evening, as a fitting culmination to three days of ceremony, five hundred of the leading citizens of Boston tendered a banquet in his honor at Faneuil Hall.

History records that among the invited guests were the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Council, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House, and James Bowdoin, President of The Massachusetts Bank.

This bank, our direct forbear, founded in July of the same year, had already established its importance to the community. It began business with a determination to give its customers the best possible banking service.

That determination has not abated a whit in 146 years!

Goldie Calls on Chief to Free Annie

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR

The "Edgewater Kid," whom Polack Annie, beautiful daughter of the underworld, called her man, is killed by a machine gun planted in a widow across from his room. Annie is arrested but bailed out by Goldie Gorio, leader of Chicago's North Side gang, of which the Kid was a member. Goldie's henchmen accuse Kinky King, head of the West Side gang, of the murder. Gorio assures the reporters there will be no payoff. The same evening Kinky King is found murdered, a gold revolver beside him. Public demands police show some action in the "Kid's" murder and Polack Annie is arrested. The Mayor and Chief exult at putting their scheme over. The Chief refuses Goldie's request to release Annie and he threatens to go higher.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER 6

THE [illegible] CAPARISONED [illegible] of Goldie Gorio slid to the [illegible] of City Hall [illegible] bopped out and [illegible] With all the [illegible] stepped from the car and strode into the municipal habitat of management and authority.

It was 2 o'clock in the afternoon. "Second floor, Joe—the chief's office. By the way, how's the sick wife, feller?"

[illegible]

"The Chief busy, Mike?" Goldie asked.

"Not for you," smiled the sergeant, as he walked quickly into the Chief's office. He returned in an instant and, holding the door open, waved Goldie in.

"Hello, Chief," greeted Goldie, taking a seat without being invited. The Chief's face wore an expression of bewilderment and trepidation.

Everything Fine

"Hello, Goldie—what's on your mind?" he asked, nervously fingering some paper on his desk.

"Oh, nothing, Chief," said Goldie breezily. Another cigarette and he carefully adjusted his cane and leaned back in his chair looking at the Chief with half-closed smiling eyes. "I just thought I'd drop in on you and do a little buzzing. I like to call on my friends. They say a guy what neglects his friends is chasin' with his enemies. Everything's fine by me—an' you?"

[illegible]

"Well, everything's okay up my alley, Goldie," he said, finally.

"Yeah?"

"Yes."

"Ain't nothin' botherin' your—conscience?"

"Not a thing, Goldie," but the Chief's gaze did not meet that of the gangster general. Instead, he jumped from his chair and began to march the floor.

He sat in front of Goldie, who sat as calm as ever puffing at his cigarette.

"Come on, Goldie—what's the squawk—what is it?"

"Why, you surprise me, Chief," amiably rejoined Goldie. "I just come up for a nice little chat. I thought maybe you'd be glad to see me. Me and you's been good friends all along, right?"

"Well, then, what makes you feel that I have any particular urgent or unpleasant business when I come to see you?"

[illegible] He glanced at Goldie a quick anxious glance and picked up the receiver.

"Yes—yes—I see— Her attorney?— Well, nothing doing—absolutely no!"

The Chief whammed the receiver back on its hook and fumbled in his pocket for a cigar.

"Cigarette?" asked Goldie.

"No, thanks," refused the Chief, as he reached for a cigar.

The building trades department [illegible] day's session at Hotel [illegible] was expected to take up [illegible] disputes and unemployment as affecting its own [illegible]

It was understood a board would be created to adjust jurisdictional disputes which have been a bone of contention to the building trades crafts.

The resolutions committee of the department was also expected to present a resolution dealing with unemployment as it affects building trades crafts throughout the country.

Pres. Michael J. McDonough of Oakland, Cal., is presiding at the session of the building trades department which convened yesterday.

Adoption of a double five-hour working shift in industry was recommended at the opening session of the convention of the metal trades department.

CUT A "NECESSITY"

The plan as advocated by the metal trades officers provides for two distinct daytime shifts of five hours. Investors, workers and the public would benefit by the plan, the report asserted.

"The two or three short shift plan of operation during the daytime is coming as certainly as the three eight-hour shifts displaced the two 12 hours in continuous production," the report declares.

CAPITAL ASSAILED

Officers of the metal trades [illegible] devoted considerable attention to unemployment. Capital and executive branches of industry were roundly criticized for [illegible] to co-operate with [illegible] an effort to remedy unemployment, overproduction and [illegible] consumption.

$100 Weekly for News and Picture Tips

Do you want to get money for being alert? If so, the Boston American offers the opportunity. Each week $100 in prizes will be given for news and picture tips telephoned in to the News-Tip Editor, at Liberty 4000.

And what is a news tip? It's the information that something of interest to Greater Bostonians has taken place or will take place. Do you know, for instance, that an interesting picture is to be obtained, that an accident or an unusual event has happened, that there is going to be a business merger? That's a news tip. If you have a camera, take a picture of some news event, while it is happening. Pictures of unusual animal poses are wanted, too. Bring your action pictures to the American quick. Delay often spoils them for use in the American.

There will be $25 given weekly for the best or an unusual event news tip received, $15 for the next best, $10 for the next best, two $5 prizes and $2 prizes for each of the 20 next most valuable tips. Of course, the first one who turns in the tip in an interesting event receives the award on that particular item. Anyone who is alive and alert can win.

It is expected that a throng of actors and actresses together with other friends and admirers of the dancer, comedian and playwright will attend the services.

Accompanying Mrs. Donahue from Charlestown were her two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Bickey of Charlestown, formerly Margaret Donahue, and Mrs. Walter A. Hoo[illegible] of [illegible], who was Alice Donahue [illegible].

[illegible] were Col. Cornelius J. Crowley of Charlestown and his wife, an aunt of Jack Donahue; Mrs. Mary Donahue and Mrs. Katherine Coughlin, also aunts, Ned Cushing and Walter Powers of Charlestown and several other friends.

WENT TO NURSE HIM

Mrs. Donahue had made a hurried trip to New York to be with Jack after his collapse in Cincinnati but her visit was brief because she was assured that her boy would get better.

She did not realize that he was to be a martyr to that tradition of his profession, the command to all troupers that "the show must go on." She did not know, she said last night, that Jack had virtually staggered onto the stage at every performance for many days before his collapse in Cincinnati while he was suffering [illegible]

Archway of Lights Raised for Parade

AN EAGLE-EYED CITIZEN saved the Legion float parade from breaking up even before it started. Walking along Beacon st., the citizen, who refused to give city officials his name, noticed that archways of lights erected in honor of the Legion convention were not high enough to permit the passing of the big floats. As a result of a call he made to City Hall, city officials ordered all the archways raised three feet so that the floats might pass beneath. This picture shows the arches after they had been raised. HOOVER VISIT TO BOSTON EXPECTED TO AID BUTLER CAMPAIGN

PRESIDENT TO AVOID DRY QUESTION

Republican Leaders Eagerly Await the Appearance of the Chief Executive on Monday

By BERNARD J. DOHERTY

Republican leaders are looking with eagerness to the appearance of President Hoover in Boston Monday, when he addresses the American Legion and the American Federation of Labor conventions.

Although the President will confine his speeches to the problems of the administration, it is the belief here that the chief executive's presence will stimulate interest in the coming election and help the candidacy of William M. Butler for the senate.

Butler throughout the primary stressed the need of a Republican of experience to back up the Hoover administration.

SHUN DRY QUESTION

The senatorial candidate will be given a prominent place at the state luncheon given by Gov. Allen to the President and if by chance the President should publicly say a word for Butler it will be used to telling advantage in the campaign.

The President, it is understood, will steer clear of the prohibition question.

The President is due to leave Washington by special train Sunday night.

Both Republican and Democratic candidates today were getting their second wind for the strenuous campaign which is scheduled to start in earnest next week.

At the headquarters of the Democratic State Committee the activities were confined to registration work almost entirely.

In Republican circles, scarcely a [illegible] was made by the joint statement issued by Christian A. Herter and Mayor Sinclair Weeks of Newton in which both said they would support Butler. Both men were prominent supporters of Eben S. Draper.

The most frequent comment heard was:

"Is that all they could get to sign it?"

Probably the greatest bitterness felt by the Draper forces is directed against paid workers of the state committee, who were, it is charged, on the firing line for Butler, in violation of the neutrality expected in a primary.

WANT HOUSECLEANING

A victory for Marcus A. Coolidge in the November election will undoubtedly mean the surrender of the G. O. P. political machine by the "Old Guard" forces to the younger wing of the party.

In such an event, it is no secret that the new leader will insist on a housecleaning that will be far reaching. Not only will the paid headquarters workers be affected but many of the federal political appointees as well.

The "Old Guard" forces, however, are anything but pessimistic over the election result. They base their expectations on the ineffective campaign conducted by Coolidge in the primary. Effective material against Coolidge was furnished by some of his primary opponents, particularly by Thomas C. O'Brien, former district attorney of Suffolk County. This material will be used by Butler.

Recognizing that Coolidge is probably at his weakest on the stump, Butler may be shrewd enough to force Coolidge into a public debate on the tariff [illegible] that the New Bedford [illegible] willing to [illegible]

COOK TO MAIL 3 REFERENDUMS

Approximately 1,500,000 booklets containing the text of the three referendum questions which will appear on the ballot in the November election will be mailed to voters of the state, Oct. 1[illegible] by Secretary of State Frederic W. Cook.

The first one on [illegible] is a proposed constitutional change on [illegible] Question No. 2 is on the repeal of the Baby Volstead Act.

The last question puts up to the voters the acceptance or rejection of a proposed law, turned down by the legislature, making it a misdemeanor to use [illegible] any trap or other device for the capture of fur bearing animals, which does not kill the animal at once or take it alive, unhurt.

1500 POLICE TO GUARD PARADE

Police Commissioner Hultman announced today 68 policemen from other cities have volunteered for duty in Boston for the American Legion parade next Tuesday.

The commissioner estimated there will be 1500 or more officers on duty along the line of march.

The officers will be fed twice during the parade at 11 a. m. and 4 p. m. from food wagons, the fare consisting of sandwiches, pie, doughnuts and coffee.

At least 7200 prints are being made in the headquarters rogues' gallery of photographs of known pickpockets for distribution to plain clothes men who will patrol the crowds.

While the parade is in progress residential sections of the city will be covered by police in automobiles [illegible]

$7,000,000 IN TAXES PAID IN 2 HOURS

Huge Throng Storms the City Collector's Office on Final Day

Boston collected more than $7,000,000 in taxes in two hours today.

The last day for payment of 1930 city taxes without interest saw a huge crowd on hand at the office of City Collector William M. McMorrow.

Six extra policemen making a total of eight were called to hold them in check and six clerks were loaned the collector's office by the assessing department. Four lines of taxpayers were formed.

A total of $10,072,495.28 was paid over the counter at City Hall yesterday. The city tax warrant for the year is in excess of $65,000,000.

Among the largest of today's early payments were those of George L. DeBlois and A. N. Madison, $1,916,533.36; Edison Light Co., $1,819,9[illegible]; Hotel Statler, $287,[illegible]; Eben D. Immediate Relief for INDIGESTION

WHAT most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. Food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate with no harmful after-effects.

Once you learn this perfect way you'll never deal in any other manner with the headaches, gas, bloating, nausea, dizziness, indigestion, biliousness, etc., due to an over-acid stomach and bowels.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips'. It is always a liquid; never made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips' on the bottle. All drugstores—25c and 50c

JANE COMBED STORES FOR COSTUME

When Jane Cowl, who is playing in "When Hell Froze" at the Wilbur this week, started out to get the proper clothes for Addie Joslin, the woman who lives on a New England mountain farm, she thought it would be a simple matter to just buy some gingham dresses and a few odds and ends to go with them. However, it proved a more difficult problem [illegible] the entire outfitting [illegible] in the past [illegible] city stores [illegible] Addie [illegible] clothes [illegible] the effort to find [illegible] the right [illegible] was complicated by the fact that wherever Miss [illegible] people were determined to sell her something chic. At length a dressmaker was called in by the day and the dresses were made, simple waists and skirts with big aprons to go over them.

Jane Cowl

But hardest of all was the finding of a broad gold wedding ring for Addie. Pawn shops and second-hand stores revealed a shocking array of modern narrow ones, but apparently the women who married in the days of wide gold bands kept them. A four days' search at last uncovered a ring worn paper-thin—a flat, wide band with a pattern on it so buffed down by time and use that the pattern was dimmed and the date almost obliterated.

Colossal Carnera ↑ Stribling Bout
Freak or Fighter? Godfrey Affair
Picking Him Apart ↓ Future Wonder

Here's Real Lowdown on Ring's Man Mountain

What manner of a man is this Mt. Blanc of Boxers, Primo Carnera, whose simple arrival attracts 5000 persons to South Station and whose ring appearance here against Shamus Maloney next Tuesday evening will pack the Boston Garden with a record crowd and record receipts? Is this Human Mastodon a fighter or a freak? Can this mountain of a man, the mere sight of whom causes crowds to gather and blocks traffic—and he blocks traffic everywhere, be it Broadway, Boule Mich or Beacon St.—really handle his dukes? Can Carnera fight? Aye, there's the rub - can he fight?

Let's take this towering redwood of ringsters and put him under the microscope. We'll find out, some way, whether he is a freak or a fighter, or perhaps a combination of a fighter and freak.

George Underwood

Hop in an airplane or on Ali Baba's Magic Carpet and be whisked across the Atlantic to dear ol' Lun'on where in Royal Albert Hall - which, by the way, is made to look like a plugged nickel or a worn tuppence by our Boston Garden—Primo Carnera is fighting Young Stribling. It was the match with the King of the Canebreaks which first attracted attention to Carnera here in America.

The big lumbering Italian novice, who saw his first boxing glove [illegible] a year previous, [illegible] meeting about the most canny, clever and experienced [illegible] the American pugilists [illegible] a hard man for any[illegible] a hard man for [illegible] a showing [illegible] Jack Sharkey. As [illegible] Von Porat and Phil [illegible] who Stribling knocked out in jig time.

HOW IT LOOKED

Now if Stribling could knock [illegible] an experienced American heavy as Von Porat and the English champion Phil Scott and give our own Jack Sharkey as tough a fight as the Squire of Chestnut Hill ever had, it stands to reason that he should figuratively make a monkey out of the green unseasoned, Italian novice, doesn't it? Why, the experienced American fighter should fairly massacre the Italian novice!

But did he? No, Sir-e-e-e Not by the proverbial jugful. Here is what happened:

Stribling mauled, wrestled cuffed, walloped, heeled, pulled every trick in his bag to throw the novice out of gear, but without avail. He centered his attack on the body and smashed away with venomous left hooks and ugly right crosses at will, for the giant Italian then had no defense. Stribling might just as well have been batte[illegible] a stone wall.

But eventually "it" happened. Carnera is a hard man to nail on the jaw with a clean punch. He is so tall that an opponent has to jump to hit him on the whiskers. But eventually Stribling did nail the Italian giant with a leaping swing to the button.

Canera went down

But he got up.

He got up boiling with rage at the ignominy of being knocked off his pins. Anger aroused the terrible strength in him. He rushed at Stribling like an infuriated bull. Stribling himself told this writer that when Canera got up and charged him after that knockdown Bill thought he was being rushed by a whole football team.

Under that wild maniacal assault of the Italian giant, Stribling was swept about the ring like a chip in a whirlpool. Carnera was out of his head with rage and mortification. He didn't care where he hit the Georgian as long as he hit him. Stribling went down, twice if we recollect rightly, once from a club-like swing on the neck and again from a pile-driving smash below the belt. Remember the giant novice was out of his head with rage. Carnera was adjudged the loser on a foul.

That first Stribling-Carnera fight certainly showed that Carnera was something more than a freak. It showed that he was the makings of a fighter, a great fighter, perhaps the greatest fighter that ever crawled through the ropes.

Another fight with Stribling, this time in gay Paree, which also ended in a foul, and Carnera was brought to this country.

Now any clever manager or handlers of fighters would have "picked the spots" for this rare ring prospect. For a year or more they would have been careful about pitting their meal ticket against a hitter or too experienced foemen.

WERE OUTSMARTED

But the Smart Alecks who allied themselves with Leon See Carnera's manager, outsmarted themselves. They went altogether too far. Bold, daring to a degree that knew no caution they toured America with the Italian Giant openly picking setups and arranging "dives." They brought opprobrium on Carnera, and what is more opprobrium on the sport of boxing and the business of boxing. Carnera's handlers attracted so much notoriety and criticism that the boxing game was hurt throughout the whole country.

Now here's some inside stuff. There came a secret break between Leon See and the "smart" Americans connected with Carnera's management. Not being able to jimmy See out of Carnera's management and to hog his earnings, the smart American allies decided to get Carnera knocked off."

What happened?

They matched him with George Godfrey. Insiders were tipped off to bet their bankrolls on the giant negro. Jack Kearns was only one of many of the inside boxing gentry who "bet his shirt" on Godfrey.

Godfrey unlimbered his heaviest artillery. He tried as never before to knock out his opponent. Carnera shed the giant Negro's wallops like a duck sheds water. Expecting soft picking, Godfrey and his handlers were staggered, dumbfounded. Godfrey tired He took the usual "out" for the balked sure thing fighter. He 'fouled out."

There will be no fouling out in the next Tuesday night's fight by the way, friend fan. You can thank the BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN for that. The BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN saw to it that both Carnera and Maloney are compelled to wear the new foul proof protector.

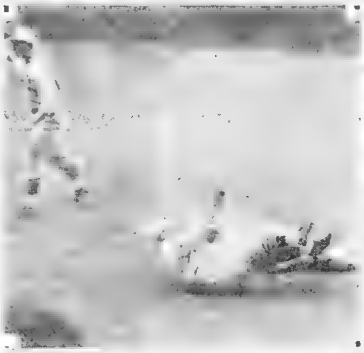
But consider those two matches, Carnera vs. Stribling and Carnera vs. Godfrey. Remember even now Carnera only has been two years in the ring and one of them was in tank towns in Europe and against novices as green as himself.

Is he a fighter or a freak? Or is he a combination of freak and fighter? We lean to the latter view.

In this writer's humble opinion Primo Carnera lacks only one thing—experience—to qualify him for the ring's elect. We believe that with a little more experience this gigantic combination of freak and fighter will develop into such a fighting man that by next year he will be able to whip Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling in the same ring.

HIGH LIGHTS OF WORLD SERIES OPENING BATTLE

THE FIRST BALL in the World Series, appropriately enough, was tossed out by the first citizen in the country President Herbert Hoover



ONE OF THE FINEST PLAYS in the first series game occurred in the first inning. Mickey Cochrane is shown diving into second base, but too late to get by Frankie Frisch, who took Mancuso's lightning throw to tap Mickey out.

St. Louis takes its baseball very seriously. The Cards won't get much of a reception from the home fans if they lose again this p. m.

The players should be more relaxed now that the strain of the opening game is over but in batting practice today they appear more tightened up than they did yesterday. We haven't seen more than ten real hits made [illegible] practice pitchers [illegible] in the past hour.

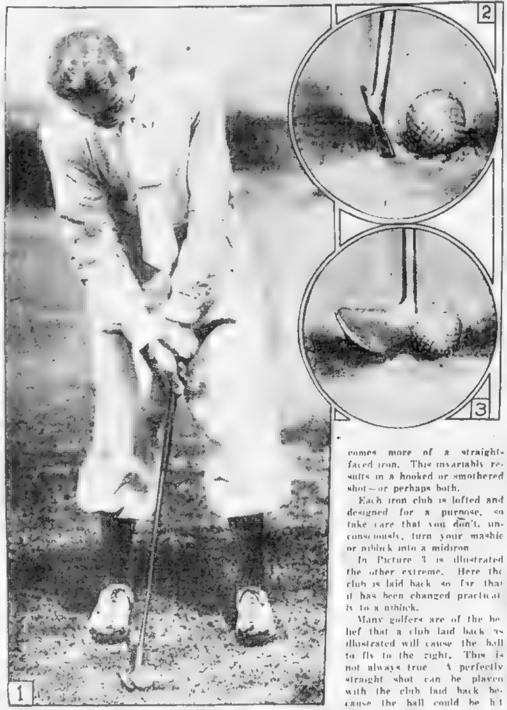
Horton Smith's Golf Lessons

Famous Young Missouri Professional Illustrates and Describes the Mechanics and Technique of Play

FACING THE CLUB AGAINST THE BALL



There is a fault common to most beginners in golf which if persisted in, may prove difficult to correct. I refer to the habit of "laying in" the face of an iron club.

In Picture 1, I am addressing the ball for a mashie pitch. Note that the sole of the club is grounded correctly and at right angles to the direction of flight.

Picture 2 shows the fault that is most common. The club face is "laying in" so that it has lost its "loft" and becomes more of a straight-faced iron. This invariably results in a hooked or smothered shot—or perhaps both.

Each iron club is lofted and designed for a purpose, so take care that you don't, unconsciously, turn your mashie or niblick into a midiron.

In Picture 3 is illustrated the other extreme. Here the club is laid back so far that it has been changed practically to a niblick.

Many golfers are of the belief that a club laid back as illustrated will cause the ball to fly to the right. This is not always true. A perfectly straight shot can be played with the club laid back because the ball could be hit obliquely across the blade.

In a bunker, for example, it is often advisable to lay the blade back, but ordinarily be sure you sole your club straight as illustrated in Picture 1.

Carnera to Battle 20 Times a Year If He Wins Title

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

PRIMO READY FOR GO WITH MALONEY

By JACK CONWAY

Jack Conway

Primo Carnera will fight 20 times a year if he is successful in winning the world's heavyweight championship according to Leon See, his manager.

"Carnera will prove himself to be the greatest title holder the ring has had," declared See during a talk at a dinner tendered to Primo by the Boston Garden Club. "He will sweep into action at least 20 times a year.

"Carnera will show in every city in the United States where he has been treated fairly on his present tour. Primo has been tendered a marvelous reception in Boston and so one of the title bouts will be staged in the Hub.

"I do not approve of the way champions remain idle.

"Carnera had 19 bouts when he first came to this country. He has knocked out 23 opponents during his American tour. It has been charged that Primo has met pushovers and setups. In each case he has received the referee's decision and has always been paid. This proves he has been honest.

"We have made many friends and also some enemies. We like our friends and do not dislike our enemies.

"I promise you an honest fight when Carnera meets Maloney next Tuesday night. And Primo will win. He will prove to the fans he is the coming champion."

Carnera left after the dinner for Bayonne, N. J., where he is billed to engage in an exhibition match tonight. He will return to Boston tomorrow and will finish training for Maloney at a local gym.

Santa and Bertazolla in Arena Battle

Jose Santa, Portuguese heavyweight, and Riccardo Bertazolla of Italy will collide in a ten-round bout at an Argonne A. A. show at the Arena tomorrow night.

Santa, who is taller than even Carnera, has attracted large crowds to his workouts at Kelley & Hayes' gym on Hanover st. Jose will end his training with a light workout today.

Santa is 6 feet 9 inches tall and weighs 265 pounds. He has a good record in Europe and in this country and is ready to take on Carnera, Sharkey or any of the leading heavyweights.

Bertazzolla is a match for Santa. The Italian is 6 feet 3½ inches tall and weighs 215 pounds. Bertazzolla has been training at Sharon Gardens and is in good condition for the bout.

Alf Ros, Spanish welterweight champion, has been signed to meet Steve Ketchel of Haverhill in one of the prelims.

Tufts Cubs Play B.U. Frosh Tomorrow

The Jumbo yearling team is working hard for the game on Friday with the B. U. Cubs. Coming fresh from a victory over Andover, the Frosh are confident of taking the measure of a good B. U. team at Nickerson field.

The game last Saturday showed some outstanding players on the team. Flint was the halfback who was responsible for the march down the field which resulted in the only score of the game. Another outstanding backfield performer was Staffon, who tore off long gains besides playing a good defensive game.

Hub Elevens Play in Twin Bill Today

A football doubleheader is slated for this afternoon at the new Schoolboy Stadium in the Fens, when Brighton faces Mechanic Arts and Commerce plays Charlestown.

The gridiron of the stadium was flooded two days ago in order to give the turf needed moisture and if the surface has not dried out sufficiently by this afternoon the games will be shifted to another field or put over for a few days.

Brighton and Mechanic Arts lost their first games, last week, and should stage a close battle today. Brighton with Pete Murphy and Johnny Vardack in the backfield, is powerful. Commerce and Charlestown are playing their first games of the Boston school schedule.

Codman A. A. Wants Sunday Grid Game

The Codman A. A. of Dorchester wants a gird game for next Sunday due to a last minute concellation. Would prefer to play away from home but will consider a home tilt. The club also has a few dates open later in the season for away from home games. Write William Sargent, care of the Codman A. A., 629 Washington st., Dorchester, or phone Geneva 4628, between 6 and 7 p. m.

GOVERNOR GREETS GIANT

MELROSE TEAM IS STRONG

By BILL CONNELL

Melrose high started this season with only a couple of veterans and a flock of light, young candidates yet the team is developing rapidly and should be up with the leaders of the Mystic Valley League this fall.

Coach Harold Poole's best threat is Rex Kidd, 155-pound quarterback and all around backfield star. Kidd last season was ranked with the best school backs of the league. He gives the Melrose eleven the punch it needs.

Elliott Cargill, lanky end, is the best kicker of the squad. At present he is out of action because of a charley-horse, sustained in a practice scrimmage with Medford high a week ago. Cargill can punt well over 50 yards when he is right.

Jack Brennan subbed for Cargill at the wing post last Saturday against Quincy and did a fine jojb. Cargill will have to fight to get back his position at end, but his booting probably will give him an edge on Brennan. Bob Hoeckel is the other regular end.

Capt. Art Hannigan and Bill MacKenzie capably fill the tackle berths. Jack Randall and Ken Reeves are guards, and Earl Ellsworth, center.

Harlan Robinson, 130 pounds and Arlan Fuller are the halfbacks. Harold MacKenzie, fullback, completes the list of the first string backs who work with Kidd.

Melrose is fortunate in having three sets of backs, about equal in strength, with the exception of the signal caller. Any one of the three quartets is effective, with Rex Kidd directing play. Kidd can pass, run, block and receive forwards.

As a threat his sole weakness is that he is not a good kicker, but his other strong points more than balance this weak spot.

Watertown is slated as the next opposition on Saturday. Malden, a strong foe, comes to Melrose on the holiday, Oct. 13.

St. John's prep will flash a double wing back Warner offense when Tom McNamara's grid team opens its season against the Boston College freshman tomorrow, at Danvers. Fenlon, former St. James' gridman, will quarterback for St. Johns'.

The latter has a good lineup, but will need every bit of strength it can command against the Eagle yearlings, who should have one of the good frosh elevens of the year.

Sunday Game Wanted

The Cathedral Purples, a 135-pound eleven, wants a grid game for Sunday, at home, with any fast team of their weight. Managers please write Dan Fitzpatrick, 22 Sharon st., Boston, or call Copley 1969-J.

Dartmouth Varsity Meets Freshman Team Today

By BILL GRIMES.

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 2—For the first time in seven years the Dartmouth varsity will scrimmage against the freshman this afternoon at Memorial Field.

Bill Grimes

Realizing that his Indians of the North derived little or no benefit from the Norwich game Head Coach Jack Cannell has held scrimmage two days this week and ordered another for today with the 1934 warriors opposing the varsity.

On paper Dartmouth's prospects for a banner season are good. There are 15 lettermen on the varsity squad and an assortment of capable substitutes. Capt. Hal Andres' squad can rightly be called the Big Green. The linemen are all fortified with an abundance of weight and most of them are of the rangy type. Also there is no noticeable lack of poundage in the backfield.

Dartmouth cannot afford to suffer more than the ordinary amount of casualties. The squad has been worked strenuously and a good number of players are on the hospital list. Hank Barber who was regular tackle last season had a light workout yesterday which was his first in two weeks. The loss of Barber would be a serious blow to Dartmouth for the Cambridge [illegible] one of the mainstays.

Eddie Toothaker, who is giving Bill Morton a battle for quarterback, returned to the squad yesterday after a session with the injured. Toothaker, who is making his first bid for the varsity, is a junior. He was ineligible last season, after quarterbacking his freshman year.

Toothaker Made "All" Grid Team

He is a Denver boy and was chosen for the All Colorado eleven while representing East High School. Toothaker stands five feet ten inches and weighs 170 pounds. During scrimmage he has displayed [illegible] in calling plays [illegible] he has no bteen under fire in a regular game. He is a clever ball carrier, passes well and a good punter.

Although Bill Morton gained widespread recognition for his playing last season, when he replaced the great Al Marsters, he is far more finished this fall. He is rapidly learning to cut and if he succeeds in mastering this art, he will have the call over Toothaker. Morton is one of the outstanding kickers and passers on the squad.

Until he was injured a week ago, Wild Bill McCall had the edge on Toothaker and Morton, but he has lost ground through his enforced absence and will face an uphill fight to regain his lost prestige.

Should Toothaker and Morton come along as expected, it is possible that McCall will be returned [illegible] McCall [illegible]

Clark, Wolff and Johnson Are Good

[illegible] Clark, Wolff and Hank [illegible] football. [illegible] was injured [illegible] the Harvard game and [illegible] remainder of the season.

Wolff is fast, exceptionally [illegible] and a fine passer [illegible] long heaves. Johnson [illegible] one of the [illegible] backs [illegible]

There are [illegible] second backfield [illegible] Eddie Sutton [illegible] Phillips [illegible] back, shifted in back from Andover high school [illegible] for the freshman [illegible]

Soph Back Has Chance to Make First Team

[illegible] school [illegible] a six footer weighing [illegible] possessing all the [illegible] At present [illegible] with the third and fourth [illegible] but he is destined to be promoted [illegible] take his place with the first varsity.

[illegible] can [illegible] sweep around ends, is a beautiful passer and the outstanding punter on the squad. Among the other backs who have come in for recognition are Johnny Donovan who prepped at Norwood high and Exeter, Dan Degasis from Nashua high, Sonny Flies, Cushing Academy, and Ned Wilkin, a product of Salt Lake City.

Dartmouth has a veteran line, having lost only Ellie Armstrong and Hal Booma from last year's team. Paul Crehan who played guard for two seasons is holding down Ex-Capt. Armstrong's berth at right tackle. Hal Mackey and Larry Durgin are fighting for Booma's end.

Mackey and Durgin are sophomores and a pair of giants weighing just short of 200. At present Mackey has the call but the fight is far from over, in fact it promises to continue throughout the season.

Capt. Hal Andres, who did not receive as much credit for his playing as he was entitled to last year, is back at center and apparently in for his greatest season.

MARYLAND DOES NOT FEAR YALE

College Park, Md., Oct. 2—The football battle next Saturday with Yale, greatly feared and [illegible] will be [illegible] for the University of Maryland eleven.

[illegible]

[illegible] team had no test in its [illegible] with Washington College, winning 61 to 6 and using [illegible] first string player until the [illegible] went into the game [illegible] like a warmup.

"It will take the Yale game to tell whether or not I have a good football team," Byrd said about a week ago, and that is the way he still feels about it. "The Elis have it on us in quality and quantity and the latter is particularly effective in an early season tilt," he added.

Maryland will present a heavier [illegible] 182 pounds, the forwards with their weights being as follows:

[illegible] Al Woods, 160 [illegible] Ray Poppelman, 173.

The First Fire Engines

Fire engines are said to have been invented by Ctesibius, 250 B. C. They are mentioned by Pliny, A. D. 70. John Braithwaite constructed a steam fire engine in 1830. High-powered gas engines now are most in use.

Boy Tries to Break Her Friendship With Others

She Thinks He May Be Jealous

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

BEATRICE FAIRFAX will discuss a problem of heart and home at 6 35 p. m., over station WLEX.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am a girl of 18 and not allowed to keep steady company with boys, but am allowed to go out with them once in a while. A certain young man that I've gone with a few times tries to break all my friendships with other men. If I go with anyone he calls me on the telephone and [illegible] [illegible] many [illegible] them [illegible] very few [illegible] Do you think [illegible] and [illegible] just trying to make my [illegible] SIXTEEN.

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

[illegible] I am quite a few people. In a certain store there is a boy who is very good looking and who seems to like me, but has never asked me out. [illegible] just because he can't afford it.

Please, Miss Fairfax, won't you tell me how he can become more than just a friend?

HELENE

Dear Helene: I am afraid the [illegible] from you or your mother, dear girl. There is an ironclad rule in big department stores such as the one you mention against clerks making social advances to customers. Why don't you or better still your mother invite the young man to your home some time? Sunday afternoon is a good time, and [illegible] something like that.

Likes Him as a Chauffeur, Not as Friend

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

A certain young man gives me a ride in his car. I have known him for two years. I don't want him to let me out on my street, so I make him let me out around the corner. He seemed hurt and asked [illegible] Please will you tell me what he meant? LAURA.

Dear Laura: I don't blame the young man for asking you that question. If you have known him for two years and accepted a ride home with him, the guess would be that [illegible] know nothing to his discredit [illegible] would make [illegible] a neighborhood [illegible] asking to be put out on another street [illegible] that the young man was not a creditable companion [illegible] probably [illegible] neighborhood chatter.

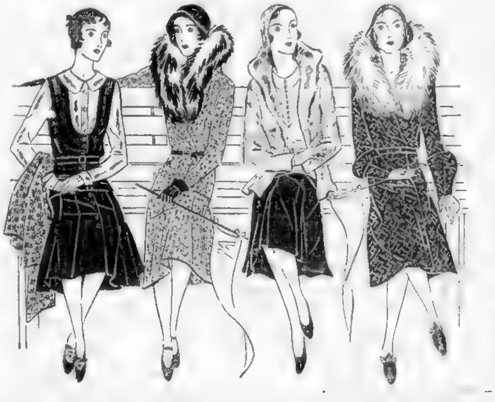
What's in Fashion?

All-America Football Clothes

Directed by AMOS PARRISH



NEW YORK, Oct. 7—Fashion's going to play in every football game this season. From the most obscure little high school contest to the great intercollegiate battles. And going to win, too.

Going to get as many cheers as the unexpected touchdown. And give as big a thrill as a brilliant 60-yard run.

Nineteen hundred and [illegible] football fashions have no other football fashions of any year [illegible] new zip and [illegible] and snap in their lines. New plays up their sleeves and in their pockets.

And this new game of fashion is certainly going to be great to watch, even [illegible] in the grandstands.

New Colors

You're going to like to look at the new color effects. The softer two-tone mixtures of the tweeds and the darker bright shades of the plain fabrics.

You're going to get excited about the new furs. The fluffy collars on coats and suits that make soft frames for eager faces. The way the new fur collars blend their color with the color of the costume. The jaunty short fur jackets and the swagger straight-line fur coats.

You're going to approve these fashions because of their comfort and practicality, as well as their good looks.

If we were selecting the All-America Football Fashion Team we'd pick these 11 fashions for our lineup. Because in our opinion [illegible] All-America.

The Jumper Dress

No. 1. The jumper dress of jersey, light tweed, knitted wool or [illegible] (One illustrated at the left above) is worn with a tailored blouse of jersey, satin or crepe.

No. 2. The tunic dress of lightweight wool. The Russian silhouette, you know, [illegible] skirt gives extra warmth.

No. 3. The tweed [illegible] with matching jacket [illegible] unfurred and unlined [illegible] comfortable [illegible] topcoat.

No. 4. The fur-collared [illegible] coat. Sometimes [illegible] tweed. More often in a two-tone mixture like brown and [illegible] or black and white. With a [illegible] fur collar, a well wrapped skirt and a snug belt [illegible] line. A coat such as the one sketched above at the [illegible]

No. 5. The fur-lined tweed coat. It looks just like the coat in the sketch, but is warmly lined with a soft fur.

No. 6. The polo coat of camel's hair or brushed wool. Its notched lapels, raglan or dropped shoulders, belt and pockets make it one of the most sports-like coats [illegible]

Fur Jackets

[illegible] Some straight, some slightly fitted and slightly flared at the hips. A lapin jacket is sketched second from the right.

No. 8. The straight-line lapin coat, belted and worn slightly shorter than the dress. With a neat [illegible] collar of self fur.

No. 9. The fur collared tweed [illegible] second [illegible]

[illegible]

Suicide Theory of the Tragedy Is Blasted by the Probe of Police

CHAPTER 37

THE AFTERNOON papers had it.

"That Alfred A. Farnsworth, well known engineer, who was found dead at his home, 2870 Presidio Terrace, at an early hour this morning with a bullet hole through his head, may not have been a suicide is the belief of police, this afternoon.

"Experts, amongst them C. O. Galway, noted criminologist, state that it would have been physically impossible for the late Alfred Farnsworth to have fired the fatal shot himself.

"The widow, a bride of six months, is being held at the city jail for questioning. Before her marriage to the elderly wealthy engineer, she was a Miss Catherine Paige of this city, formerly employed by Farnsworth as a stenographer. Her home was at 29 Clark st.

Estate Divided

"The deceased leaves an estate that may be appraised at something approximating a million and a half. One-half of this, according to the terms of the will, goes to the widow, the other half to an only son, Chester T. Farnsworth. Bequests to several local charitable institutions amount to twenty or thirty thousand dollars, to be deducted from the whole."

Later edition [illegible] that put new light on [illegible]

"Alfred Farnsworth Suicide, Doctor Avers.'

"Doctor Milton Bulloch, for many years the personal physician of the late Alfred A. Farnsworth, found dead with a bullet hole in his head at his residence, 2870 Presidio Terrace, early this morning, threw new light on the mystery this afternoon.

"In the coroner's office shortly after 1 o'clock he stated that he had been treating Farnsworth for several days, and had warned him of his approaching end only a few hours before the shooting which culminated in his death.

"It is Doctor Bulloch's belief that Farnsworth took his own life in a fit of despondency. He was in very low spirits, and had expressed the wish, in Bulloch's office, that death would come soon.

"Mrs. Elizabeth Zader, a nurse in Dr. Bulloch's office, was a witness to Farnsworth's words. Upon being informed that the illness from which he was suffering was incurable and death not far distant, Farnsworth thought more of the effect of his approaching invalidism on his young wife, than of himself, both physician and nurse aver.

"'I could stand it if I were alone,' he is alleged to have said before leaving Bulloch's offices at 6:20 yesterday afternoon, 'but I cannot bear to think of chaining Mrs. Farnsworth to a hopeless invalid. She is young, and has had little pleasure in her life. This would be a great tragedy to her. She is of a very sympathetic nature, and it would mean that she would cut herself off from all normal pleasures and activities, to remain by my side.'

Wished for Death

"Dr. Bulloch further states that Farnsworth spoke with bitterness of the barbarism of modern civilization which allows a person to live on in agony, after all hope of recovery is gone. 'It would be far kinder if you could give me something to end my suffering at once,' he is alleged to have said 'rather than to allow me to become a nuisance to myself and a burden to those that love me.'

"Mrs. Farnsworth's attorneys, Allan and Gunther, are expected to make a motion for her release, following the doctor's testimony at the inquest tomorrow.

"Assistant Dist. Atty. McLaughlin, however, does not believe that the doctor's statement will have much weight with the findings of the jury. Experts are agreed that it would have been physically impossible for Farnsworth to have fired the shot himself."

* * *

They told Cathie about it. She showed little interest. She sat on her narrow bed with the gray blanket [illegible] and looked at all who came with wide, tearless eyes.

"I found him. He had a hole in his head. There was blood on the pillow," she said, over and over.

Family Calls

When they told her that her mother and sister were waiting to see her she cried. "Oh, no, no," and wept on the matron's starched white open shoulder.

"They shouldn't have come!" she whispered. "Oh, why did you tell them? I didn't want them to know. . . Poor Ma . . . it will hurt her so."

"But there's no keeping it quiet, my dear," Fanny Evans, the matron, told her. "It's in the papers, you know that."

"I know," Cathie said. She gave up then, and sobbed.

When she heard her mother's [illegible] in the corridor she started violently. She thought she couldn't bear it. But when Ma's Paige's dear face appeared in the doorway and she saw her reach out her arms, [illegible] protectingly, she went into them with a little wailing cry.

"Mama! Mama!"

She hadn't called her mother that since she was a little girl.

Most Powerful Bank Leaders Buying Stock

Call Selling at Current Prices Very Foolish; Dawes' Epigram

By B. C. FORBES

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—I talked this week with the man who is regarded as the most [illegible] international banker in America and [illegible] powerful national banker [illegible]

B. C. Forbes

"I have been adding to my stock holdings during the last three weeks. I regard recent quotations as extremely low. In fact, I cannot understand why there should be so much selling of stocks at such levels."

"Do you know of any big men or institutions that are selling?" I asked.

"No!" he replied emphatically. "Not a share. It would be ridiculous."

The gist of the national banker's con[illegible] was:

"I made up my mind about two weeks ago that stocks were scraping bottom. But they have continued to go down since then. The selling cannot all be ascribed to bears going short. As you know, I was not in sympathy with the stock market's recklessness a year ago. Well, in my judgment, it is acting just as ridiculously now."

"Can anything be said or done that might help to restore sanity?" I asked.

"Not that I can see," he replied. "Just as the bull market had to run its course, so the present decline must run its course. So long as an orderly market is maintained, things should work out without serious trouble—except, of course, for those who have to sacrifice holdings at these unreasonable prices. Brokers are in excellent shape, our dealings with them indicate. And brokers tell me that their customers respond extraordinarily well when additional margin is called for.

"When the turn comes, it may astonish the bears just as the collapse last year astonished the bulls."

In another national bank, whose veteran head is [illegible] master at [illegible] I learned that the view [illegible] is that the best stocks are on the bargain counter. [illegible] recently this [illegible] was very cautious. [illegible] it is felt that [illegible] can now be put [illegible] with [illegible] confidence that general [illegible] profits will accrue [illegible]

LORING PLANS FOR TEXTILES AMBITIOUS

By FRANK H. MELOON

It is likely that, if 1930 had proven itself a better year in Wall and State Streets, we would have heard more about the ambitious plans of Homer Loring, former Boston & Maine leader, now of United Merchants & Manufactures, Inc., [illegible] cotton textile [illegible] spite outwardly unfavorable conditions, some progress has been made.

Homer Loring

* * *

The latest step was taken when at Fall River stockholders of both the Davis Mills and Lincoln Manufacturing Co. at special meetings voted to accept the offer of General Cotton Corp. for the purchase of their properties. In both instances the vote on acceptance was slightly less than the 85 per cent required under the written offer, but it was stated that General Cotton Corp. had reserved the right to waive this provision.

* * *

The offer included assumption of all the liabilities of both corporations, with an exchange of six shares of General Cotton for each share of Davis and 1½ shares of the same corporation for each share of Lincoln.

* * *

Inquiry revealed that Mr. Loring, Malcolm G. Chace of Berkshire Fine Spinning Associates, Inc., and [illegible] Chace were the parties who conferred on the matter with directors of the two mills.

* * *

President Cooke, chairman of the American Bankers' Assn. committee on taxation, believes the trend is definitely upward as regards taxes. He says new sources of revenue must be sought out. The feeling in State Street is that something drastic ought to be done at [illegible] to remedy the present systems, which vary greatly in the different states. Constructive suggestions are rare and not often considered by those in authority when offered.

* * *

One railroad raises commuters' fares with the defense that they have not been changed "except for an increase of 10 per cent in 1918 and another of 20 per in 1920." The bank [illegible] of [illegible] to have been practically [illegible] to those states which ban branch banking. We think this [illegible] than a mere coincidence.

* * *

The idea that Americans cannot successfully operate shipping companies nowadays ought not to be too easily accepted. The United Fruit Co. mangement knows how to handle ships, for example, and another example of good mangement is that of the Eastern Steamship Co. The Eastern, known as "Steamer" on the Boston Stock Exchange floor, operates the world's largest fleet of coastwise ships.

* * *

The idea may be new to some of those studying earnings of listed stocks, but a fairly large number of companies expect to operate at a loss during certain months of the year. To ascertain where they stand the earnings must be taken for the year as a whole.

* * *

This situation extends into private industry. We know of one furniture man, fairly prosperous, who tells us his books show that in the past 15 years he has always lost money in the months of January and February.

Today's News of Live Stocks in Wall Street

With the stock market showing renewed strength, there naturally will be a disposition to look more favorably upon business developments. In certain directions there has been modest improvement, but as yet no broad upturn is apparent.

The immediate course of the market will probably continue to be dominated by technical considerations. In this respect the brokers' loan statements for the present week, both by the Federal Reserve and the stock exchange, will materially influence prices.

Reserve Report Due Tomorrow

The Federal Reserve report is due tomorrow afternoon and the Stock Exchange monthly figures may be released simultaneously with the reserve statement. In the last few days covered by the reports there was witnessed substantial reduction in brokers loans so that the contraction may be of sufficient size to warrant further progress on the upside.

Public Service Holders Increase

Checks for October dividend on class "A" stock of the Central Public Service Corporation are on their way to 30,000 stockholders, the largest number of owners of class "A" stock in the company's history. Payment of the dividend involved a total of $875,000. The dividend on class "A" stock is payable either in cash or stock at the option of the holder.

Short Covering in General Electric

Substantial price appreciation in General Electric was attributed to heavy covering by shorts, some of whom had been the stock's most aggressive sponsors up to the recent market slump.

American Radiator Steadily Absorbed

Demand for American Radiator was of better character than in most stocks. The relatively high yield on the stock at 20 and reports that the company is further diversifying its activities combined to bring in investment buying.

United Aircraft Meets Support

Just fractionally above the year's low price United Aircraft met large-scale demand, some of which was for the account of interests close to its banking sponsors. The stock is far out of line with the 1½-to-1 terms supposedly offered by General Motors.

Union Carbide Joins Advance

As explanation for the recent improved tone in Union Carbide, it was stated that September operations of the company were equal to the same month of 1929.

Fox Rallies on Earnings

Recent advance in Fox Films was in response to the more pleasing earnings report, disclosing [illegible] dividend requirements earned in a 39 weeks period.

Westinghouse Given Study

Westinghouse Electric has been one of the stocks in rather heavy supply at times recently, due to the discussions of comparatively unsatisfactory earnings for the third quarter, as compared with the same period of 1929. However, market students state that in the past few days the buying has been considerably better than the selling. They add that some interests that disposed of stocks at much higher prices have been replacing their lines on a scale in recent recessions.

Explain American Can "Extra"

Sentiment concerning the declaration of the extra dividend on American Can is rather mixed. While many interpret the action as reflecting the confidence of the management in the outlook, some of the bears insist that the payment was voted to affect the market. Those close to the American Can organization contend that the officials are not interested in the action of the stock market and add that the "extra" would not have been declared unless the management had felt it justified under existing and prospective conditions.

Dividend Talk on Texas Co.

Considerable discussion concerning the dividend of the Texas Co. has accompanied selling in the stock this week. Interests that have first-hand information on the company state that earnings this year will about equal the $3 a share annual dividend rate, and believe that it will not be changed when directors meet next month.

Forced Selling in General Refractories

Attitude of interests that were optimistic on General Refractories some time ago is unchanged. They contend that the decline in the stock has been in sympathy with the action of the general market. Part of the selling was believed to be of the forced character, being liquidation by outsiders who were carrying other stocks in their long positions and who had received margin calls during the decline.

Talk is still heard of comparatively good business because of repair work in steel plants and blast furnaces. Rumors persist that the company has also been getting contracts from natural gas concerns and public utilities, although details are lacking.

Market Interests Bullish on Wheat

Sharp advance in the wheat market reflected the disclosure here that important market interests had turned bullish on wheat.

United Corp. Is Supported

Although United Corporation was subjected to considerable pressure recently, it has been evident that the stock has encountered better support during the past several days. Buying recently has been [illegible] banking interests affiliated with the management of the company and reflects the belief prevalent in important utility circles that more aggressive support will be extended to United in the near future.

Operations of United Corporation recently have been centered largely on the development of properties already controlled. Interests closely associated with the management of the company indicate that United will continue to pursue this policy rather than take part in any important expansion program during the immediate future.

Radio Sponsors Not Aggressive

Notwithstanding the general improvement in sentiment, sponsors of Radio showed little inclination to extend more aggressive sponsorship.

Western Union Net Decreases

Quiet liquidation in Western Union recently is attributed to the sharp falling off in earnings reported thus far during the current year. Operations of the company in the first half of the year showed a sharp falling off as compared with the same period in 1929. Net income in the first half was equal to $4.23 a share against $7.45 a share a year ago, and interests close to the company estimate that during the third quarter will make an unfavorable comparison with last year. During the third quarter last year net equalled $3.92 a share and estimates for the past three months approximate [illegible] a share.

Bond and Share Interests Active

Bond & Share interests were active in American & Foreign Power. This is in line with the changed attitude displayed by Bond & Share recently.

Fruit Dividend Nearly All Earned

United Fruit Co., paying $4 a year, earned for the three months ended Sept. 30, 1930, net profits after depreciation but before taxes of approximately $1,550,000 or the equivalent of 53 cents a share on 2,925,000 shares of no par value as compared with a total of $7,[illegible] for United Fruit Co. and Cuyamel Fruit Co. combined earnings for the corresponding period of 1929 or the equivalent of $2.57 a share before taxes on the same capitalization.

For the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1930, net profits after depreciation, but before taxes, were approximately $11,650,000 or the equivalent of $3.98 a share on 2,925,000 shares as compared with a combined total of $16,875,000 for the same like period of 1929, or the equivalent of $5.77 a share on the same capitalization.

Standard Gas Suit Dismissed

Chancery Court in Wilmington dismissed the suit by Alfred W. Hell and others against Standard Gas & Electric Co. and Standard Power & Light Co. It was brought to have set aside the issue of Standard Gas stock in exchange for assets of Standard Power & Light. Counsel said the litigation has been settled out of court.

Electric Output Over That in '28

The production of electricity by the electric light and power industry of the United States for the week ended Sept. 27 was 1,761,135,000 k. w. h., according to National Electric Light Association. This is 3.2 per cent below the like week in 1929, but 5 per cent above 1928.

Earnings Report Comparisons Made

Earnings reports compared with a year ago, and dividend announcements by leading companies shape up as follows:

	Since July 1	Additions Yesterday
Increased earnings	274	9
Decreased earnings	551	4
Unchanged dividends	1270	22
Increased dividends	66	2
Decreased dividends	133	2

Margin Calls Are Found Few

In spite of the decline which has carried industrial averages down more than 40 points, margin calls have been comparatively few. The decline has been so gradual that traders have had plenty of time to strengthen accounts, a different state of affairs from last October and November when big smashes wiped out traders over night. Then again, stocks are down 25 per cent to 75 per cent or more from where they were in September, 1929, and less money is required to protect marginal accounts.

UNITED FRUIT AT NEW LOW IN BOSTON

Prices sagged to new low levels in trading on the Boston Stock Exchange today, after displaying a firm tone in the early part of the session. Several issues made new 1930 lows in the final hour. Changes ranged from fractions to nearly 6 points.

United Fruit slumped nearly 6 points to a new low for the year. New low figures were shown for New England Public Service and American Pneumatic second preferred.

Edison moved against the general trend, gaining over 3 points. [illegible] sagged 3 points, General Electric 2½, Quincy Mining 1⅛, New Haven 1, and New England Telephone 1. United Shoe dipped fractionally.

Local quick call rate has been advanced from 2½ to 3 per cent.

Announcement of the Lee Higginson sponsorship of a loan to Germany, made in the Boston Evening American yesterday, was supplemented today by Associated Press dispatch from Berlin. This stated:

"A syndicate headed by Lee, Higginson & Co. today was reported about to grant a two-year loan of $125,000,000 to Germany, for which Reich treasury bonds are to be issued.

"Swedish, Dutch, Swiss and German banks will participate. Flotation of a large loan has been indicated in the reform policy of Chancellor Bruening as being the first step toward rehabilitation of Germany's economic situation."

Kidder Peabody Acceptance Corporation has declared regular semi-annual dividends of 2½ per cent on the preferred "A" stock, 3 per cent on the preferred "B" and 3 per cent on the second preferred, all payable Nov. 1 to stock of October 15.

SPECTATOR'S VIEWS GIVEN

By SPECTATOR

It is the belief in many sections of Wall St. that the present stock market level has discounted the flood of unfavorable quarterly statements which will appear this month. It is open to question, however, whether this level has discounted trade developments for the fourth quarter, which are not expected to be overly impressive as far as earnings are concerned.

Brokers' Loans

The brokers' loan statement at the close of the market today will be awaited with considerable interest. Should it fail to show a reduction of sizeable proportions, it would cause unfavorable interpretation. The logical answer to the failure of loans to decrease substantially would indicate that stocks held outright are being liquidated.

The market appraisal of 100 representative common stock issues declined 13.3 per cent in September to $27,878,239,000 at the end of the month, according to a compilation by a stock exchange house. The market value of the group on September 30 was but 59 per cent of the appraisal on August 29, 1929, the peak of the bull market. The total is 7.7 per cent above the absolute lows registered on November 13 of last year.

On Doubtful List

Standard Statistics lists the following stocks among the many issues whose dividend maintenance of payments at current rates is doubtful: Baltimore & Ohio, General Motors, Chrysler, Willys Overland preferred, Chicago & Northwestern, Standard Brands, Hupp Motor, Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Firestone Tire, Goodyear Tire, Granby Mining, Congress Cigar, Pure Oil, Lehn & Fink, Pressed Steel Car preferred, Phelps Dodge, Island Creek Coal, Borg Warner and U. S. Realty & Improvement.

The National Chamber of Commerce estimates that registrations of new passenger cars in the United States for the current year will be in the neighborhood of 2,700,000. This is some 300,000 less than the normal replacement demand, indicating the accumulation of a buying demand which should be exerted in 1931 and 1932.

Bond Market Has Further Recovery

New York, Oct. 2—Further recovery of foreign and domestic issues that have been under pressure during the last three weeks was the principal development in today's bond market. Improvement was most marked among foreign obligations. German and Italian issues were generally firm.

Prices Are Steady at Wool Auctions

London, Oct. 2 (AP)—The offerings at the wool sales today amounted to 9093 bales, of which 8000 were sold. Competition was not active, but a good supply of South American was taken by home and continental buyers at steady prices.

Campbell Suspended

New York, Oct. 2—Samuel S. Campbell, floor member of S. S. Campbell & Co., has been suspended for 30 days by the Board of Governors of the Curb Exchange for violation of an article of the constitution relating to misstatements to committees.

Bankers Hold Slump Has Run Its Course

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER

Cleveland, Oct. 2.

At this critical period, when the plain citizen is seeking guidance as to the business outlook, more than 5000 of the principal commercial bankers of the country in attendance here at the 56th annual convention of the American Bankers Association today gave out the message that it was their collective opinion that the depression has run its course.

M. S. Rukeyser

After an open row on the convention floor, which resulted in a compromise resolution weakening the association's traditional opposition to branch banking, the resolutions committee won unanimous approval of its pronouncement of the business outlook. The prophetic words of the bankers were:

"There are evidences that the present depression has about run its course. Judged by historic precedences, we have now reached low ebb, and with the resumption of construction very gradual but definite improvement may be expected."

The bankers ascribed the depression to "a world-wide situation due largely to the sharp decline in the price level of raw materials," adding:

"This decline is a phenomenon which has followed in the wake of most wars, and is part of the process of readjustment needed to restore the equilibrium which was upset by the forced production necessitated in all countries to carry on the war."

Obviously, the association cannot by passing a resolution create flat prosperity. Nevertheless the sober collective opinion of the nation's bankers deserves a hearing. It is more likely to be a sincere reading of the sign posts than the propaganda of bear raiders at the stock exchange.

Col. Leonard P. Ayres, vice president of the Cleveland Trust Co., in an address before the Savings Bank division, said:

"I am confident that 1931 will be a year of progressive business recovery if we do as we have in the past—progressively accumulate savings.

"We probably have a year of advancing bond prices ahead of us."

Alexander Dana Noyes, financial editor of the New York Times, who spoke on "Cycles of Prosperity," pointed out that pessimism, such as has recently engulfed Wall Street, is a usual accompaniment of this phase of the business cycle.

He said:

"If the cycle theory assumes an inevitable chapter of contraction after the chapter of expansion, it assumes as an equal certainty the period of new prosperity to follow that."

In explaining why he considered a gradual return of business prosperity inevitable, the speaker added:

"We have our strong and unshaken banking system. The useful powers of our Federal Reserve have been strengthened by the economic readjustment.

"Our position as creditor country of the world has been reinforced. With all the sweeping cut in export and import valuations, resulting both from the fall in price and the world-wide economic reaction, our surplus of exports over imports is running larger than in any year since 1922. Our national reserve of gold fills up by the inflow from southern and eastern continents as fast as it is reduced by outflow to Europe.

"But, possibly more important than these powerful elements of economic strength, our producers, our financiers and the American public as a whole are facing their financial problems soberly and intelligently, settling down to hard work, discarding completely the dangerous illusions of the past two years, and getting ready to meet and turn to the community's advantage whatever realities may be ahead of us."

Transamerica Corp. Subsidiary Formed

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Transamerica Corp. has formed eight subsidiary companies to carry out a plan of simplification and rearrangement of its corporate structure. Each company is capitalized at $1,000,000. No shares will be issued to the public and no financing is contemplated.

CURB MARKET STOCKS REACT IN DULLNESS

New York, Oct. 2—Stocks reacted sharply in a dull session of trading on the curb market today, with the setback in prices cancelling the greater part of the recovery scored yesterday. A characteristic last minute spurt restored some part of the earlier declines.

Utilities were particularly weak, with American Gas & Electric breaking 4¼ points, Electric Bond & Share off 2½, American & Foreign Power warrants off 3⅛, United Light & Power off 2⅛, and [illegible] up to 2 points in American Superpower, Brazilian Traction, Electric Power & Light warrants, Niagara Hudson Power and United Gas new.

Cities Service turned soft after forenoon firmness and was fractionally lower.

Oils sagged abruptly, as renewed bearish pressure was applied toward this list. Humble slumped 3¾, Gulf was off 2, Cosden dipped 1¼ and Vacuum showed a loss of 1⅛.

Goldman Sachs led the investment trust group downward, with a loss of a point, Graymur and United Founders also gave way, with declines of a point each, with other issues fractionally lower.

Deere broke sharply in the miscellaneous list, showing a loss of 6 points. Empire Fire Insurance developed acute weakness and slumped 6 points. Other soft spots included Driver Harris, Aviation Corporation, Hygrade Food Products and Fokker Aircraft.

STATE STREET SIDELIGHTS

Boston brokers who were correct in their forecast that American Can would pay $1 extra now say they expect the regular rate will be $5 on "Can." These same brokers are ready buyers of the stock around 118 because they consider a return of about 4.25 per cent attractive.

Boston interests close to the shoe trade feel that the greatest drawback the industry has is the disposition of the mid-West manufacturers to belittle attempts of New England interests to get a higher tariff. The opinion is expressed that the at home evil of diverse wages must be straightened out if the industry is to be put on a firm basis.

An order clerk, commenting on the attitude of the speculative public, tells us that he has plenty of orders at prices either above or below the market but there is no inclination to follow the various moves. On the other hand, the outright buyers confidently step in and "buy" any situation they believe favorable.

A State Streeter, in noting the purchases of out-of-town interests in New Haven, draws attention to the fact that the stock returns 6 per cent at par and the average earnings of the last three years including the 1930 estimate of $[illegible] are twice the average of the preceding three years.

Cellophane Price Is Cut by Du Pont

New York, Oct. 2—Du Pont Cellophane Co. has cut price of cellophane one-quarter of a cent on each 1000 square inches. Reduction brings the current price of large quantities of moisture-proof cellophane to 5¼ cents a thousand square inches and regular cellophane to 3¼ cents.

WALL STREET CHANGES IN PRICES MOSTLY LOWER

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Wall Street was thrown into considerable confusion just before the stock market closed today as the entire stock ticker system throughout the financial district ceased operation, delaying the printing of transactions of the final two minutes of trading.

Ticker service was resumed about 10 minutes after 3 o'clock. The interruption was caused by mechanical trouble in the transmission room of the Stock Exchange."

New York, Oct. 2—Shares dipped sharply in today's stock market, only to be carried up again on the crest of a wave of short covering during the final few minutes, regaining more than half of the earlier loss.

The sharp rally of the previous session prompted considerable profit-taking and bear selling, but bears were anxious to cover their sales before the close, in advance of President Hoover's address before the American Bankers' Association this evening and publication of the weekly brokerage loan figures.

SOME RALLIES

J. I. Case, after selling down 9½ points, was off only 3½ at the close. United Fruit, after dropping 7, reduced its loss to less than 4. International Harvester dropped 5, but closed off 3½. Westinghouse completely regained a loss of 5 points.

U. S. Steel was off 2 points and American Telephone 1, after selling down 3. International Telephone closed up 2. The closing tone was irregular. Total sales approximated 2,315,000 shares.

Weakness in United Fruit reflected a sharp slump in third quarter earnings, attributed to an oversupply of fruit and vegetables in both the United States and Europe during the summer. It was pointed out, however, that the oversupply of domestic fruits normally clears up in the fall and the banana business improves.

United Fruit has already earned $3.98 a share. Its dividend for the year is $4.

Farm implements were also under sharp pressure, International Harvester breaking below 65, last November's minimum. The grain markets, nevertheless, continued to reflect the improved buying apparent recently.

LINK CRASH WITH SISTO

Only for a short time after the announcement of the failure of a Curb Market house did large-scale selling appear in this market. This failure, however, was regarded as of a minor nature, presumably an aftermath of the Sisto failure on Tuesday.

Combustion Engineering Corp., a subsidiary of International Combustion Engineering Corp., has received a contract covering boilers, furnaces and pulverized fuel-burning equipment to be installed at the Boncar, W. Va., plant of West Virginia Hydro Electric Co., a subsidiary of Union Carbide & Carbon Corp. Award involves approximately $500,000.

There is an indication that the decline in copper will be stopped at 10 cents. This is dependent on whether producers realize the importance of curtailing drastically so as to begin cutting down the surplus of refined.

It is too early to say whether this is going to happen, but it is not improbable a price of 10 cents is hurting every one greatly, and not resulting in any increase in consumption so far as can be seen.

The Dow, Jones average price for eight important iron and steel products advanced to $45.60 a gross ton, Pittsburgh, from $45.46 the preceding week, based on Iron Age quotations. This is the first upward movement of the steel average since July, 1929. Advance was due to a mark-up of 5 cents a hundred in bars. Last week's figure of $45.46 was the low for 1930.

BINGHAM DAM IS NEARLY DONE

President Walter S. Wyman of the Central Maine Power Co. states that his company enters the final 1930 quarter in good shape; construction is well along toward the finish and financing to pay for this work is practically completed. In September the company sold $5,000,000 of 4½ per cent bonds, thus completing the major part of financing for the year.

Bingham dam, the company's most important piece of work, begun two years ago, is nearing completion. Crews are working night and day. The new highway is close to completion, and within a short time the whole operation will draw to a close.

"Work on the power house is moving along and it now looks as though the first unit would be ready for service by the middle of December," says President Wyman. The date originaly set for putting the entire plant into operation is March 31, 1931.

In order to connect the new plant with the rest of the system and to furnish power to Maine Seaboard Paper Co. at Bucksport, a 120-mile 110,000-volt line was built.

BANK SURVEY OF BUSINESS IS CHEERFUL

A cheerful, though cautious, survey of business is given by the National City Bank.

Improvement in business during the month of September has been so uneven and has failed to touch too many important industries to carry the conviction that a permanent uptrend has set in, the Survey states in its Oct. 1 issue.

The month of September has witnessed some improvement in business, the survey finds, which has been rather pronounced in some lines. At this time of the year, the seasonal increase in the demand for goods would naturally impart a stimulus to trade and industry, the survey points out, hence the real measure of progress must be judged only after making allowance for these influences.

In further summarizing conditions, the survey continues:

"Seasonal expansion of commercial borrowing at banks and money in circulation, usually expected at this time, has been very moderate, and evidences of continuing readjustment in wages and basic commodity prices have served to strengthen the feeling of pessimism.

"To business men who, throughout the difficult times spring and summer, have been looking forward to the fall months to mark the commencement of business revival, the failure of September to develop a conclusive upward trend has been a keen disappointment.

"As usual, this feeling has been reflected in the stock market, which showed a firmer tendency in the latter part of August on hopes of better business, but which lately has been subjected to renewed liquidation of an urgent character, carrying prices of many stocks down to new low levels for the year."

DIVIDEND FOR RAIL IS NEAR

Chicago, Oct. 2—Payment of a dividend on the preferred stock of the Chicago Great Western Railroad, the first since 1919, will be made before the end of 1930, V. V. Boatner, president, intimated today in a discussion of the road's earnings for the year.

"On the basis of present estimates of net income amounting to $790,000 for the first nine months of 1930, I believe our final net for the year will exceed the $1,235,879 reported for 1929," Mr. Boatner said.

"Provided our prospects for the remainder of the year are realized, I believe our board of directors will favor the distribution of a dividend on our preferred stock before Jan. 1, 1931." Net for 1929 was equivalent to $2.62 a share on the preferred stock. The last payment on the preferred made in 1919 amounted to 2 per cent.

"Our gross revenues for September are estimated at $1,800,000, approximately 3 per cent less than for the same 1929 month," Mr. Boatner continued. "However, net income last month amounted to approximately $287,000, a moderate increase over the 1929 comparable figure. The eight-months' actual net was $503,863, equivalent to $1.07 a share on the preferred stock."

Although operating revenues of the Great Western have suffered this year in common with all carriers, operating economies resulting in a substantial reduction in its operating ratio have bolstered net income despite smaller gross.

Bank of England's Reserve Decreased

London, Oct. 2 (AP)—The weekly statement of the the Bank of England shows the following changes in pounds: Total reserve decreased 4,241,000, circulation increased 3,617,000; bullion increased 624,000; other securities increased 6,816,000; public deposits increased 8,335,000; other deposits decreased 2,262,000; notes reserve decreased 4,303,000; government securities increased 3,480,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liability is 48.76 per cent compared with 55.20 last week. Rate of discount 3 per cent.

President to Be Heard at 8:30 Before the Bankers' Convention

President Hoover's voice will be carried over a nation-wide network of NBC and CBS stations when he addresses a special meeting of the American Bankers' Association at Cleveland, Ohio, tonight. WNAC and WEEI will carry the broadcast which will last for one half hour, beginning at 8:30.

The meeting has been arranged as a special feature of the 56th annual convention of the association, and will be given at the Cleveland Public Auditorium. All regular business meetings of the association are to be held during the daytime. It is expected that an important pronouncement on the business situation will be made.

In addition to President Hoover's address, John G. Lonsdale, president of the association, will talk before the microphone. Music will be furnished by the United States Navy Band.

Supper Dance on Air Over WLEX

Negotiations have just been consummated between officials of Station WLEX and W. Edward Boyle, director of music at the Copley Plaza, to broadcast the opening of the supper dance season at the hotel, which will begin this evening at 9 o'clock by remote control direct from the Sheraton room.

Myer Davis' Les Paradis Band, which proved very popular last winter, will be on hand for the opening and will continue throughout the season.

Star Eyes

ADELE RONSON, stage and screen actress, who will appear in "The Noremberg Egg," a Hamilton watchman radio playet, broadcast over the Columbia System tonight at 8:45.

Concerning Radio

Edited by BILL WHIPPLE

Some five or six years ago, when radio broadcasting was beginning its rapid rise in the field of entertainment, practically everybody wrote in to their favorite station complimenting the program, or programs, which pleased them most. It was quite a simple matter then to decide which entertainment to retain and which to eliminate.

But as the years sped by and radio became more commonplace, or perhaps we should say the novelty wore off, the great flood of "fan" letters diminished, and regardless of what you may hear about this one's and that one's tremendously great mail from admirers, it is true that you listeners-in are now writing but mighty few letters.

That is perhaps as it should be; why feel obliged to sit down and labor at composing a letter because some particular broadcast has pleased you. Nevertheless, the lack of fan letters makes it extremely hard for a sponsor to know how his offering is being received. He may be, and probably is, paying a large price for his entertainment; both he and his partners may like the broadcast, but that is no criterion that the public at large likes it.

And because of this lack of "thanks" letters, none other than the great General Foods Corporation, which sponsors the Maxwell House Ensemble programs, undoubtedly a very popular entertainment, anxious to put on broadcasts which will please the greatest number of people, are conducting a poll among its 11,000 employes. Two special programs have been prepared for this purpose, the second of which goes on the air tonight.

And How He Could Marimba

Many years ago—75 it was, according to the press agent sending in this material—there was a poor, lone Indian down in the South American woods. He hadn't been clicking very good with the wife for some time, so he went off into the jungle all by himself to do a little heavy sulking. While he sat under a tree trying to get up the necessary courage to tell her where to head in, he'd sort of strike viciously with a stick at some pieces of hollow reeds which happened to rest on some strips of wood.

All of a sudden he noticed his whacks made a kind of musical sound, and it wasn't any time at all before this red man—if that was his color—thought up some tunes to play on those reeds, and folks came from miles around to hear the darn thing.

That, neighbors, is how the marimba was discovered; or was it? Anyway, you can hear one for yourself this afternoon at 5 o'clock over the NBC Blue network, when Don Carlos' Marimba Band gets into action.

The great radio show in New York ended last Saturday, and Boston's big radio fair is now under full swing down in the Garden. And perhaps you have given these expositions a thought, insofar as to wonder a little what the exhibitors get out of the fairs other than letting the public see their wares and more or less publicity.

It may surprise you to learn that during the six days of the New York show there was a total of $23,257,000 of wholesale business booked for immediate shipment. Laugh that off!

The many friends of Dr. Walter Maier will be pleased to learn that the broadcast of the American Lutheran Publicity Association will come to them tonight over the Columbia System—through WNAC local—at 10 o'clock, and will be in charge of the Doctor.

Senator James E. Watson, Republican floor leader, will speak tonight from 10:30 to 11 in the second Republican rally series and his address will be heard over WNAC. "Intimate Sketches of Democratic Contortions" is the topic chosen by Senator Watson.

COMING OUT OF THE ETHER . . . The Cleveland Bach Chorus of 150 voices, named after and dedicated to the Great Cantor of Leipzig, will be the feature of the initial program of the "Lutheran Hour" heard over the Columbia chain and WNAC at 10 o'clock tonight. . . . Richard Brinsley Sheridan, brilliant dramatist, famous wit and an altogether gallant gentleman, is the reincarnated guest of honor on the Arco Party program heard over WEEI at 9 tonight. . . . Dr. Sebastio Sampaio, consul general of Brazil in New York, will describe South American coffee plantation life when he inaugurates a new program over WBZA at 5 p. m. It is called the Brazilian American program. . . . "Laughing at Life" is Annette Hanshaw's solo tonight on the Van Huesen program, WNAC, at 9. . . .

RADIO Personalities

Doings of the Columbia system orchestras: WILL OSBORNE opens his own supper club in N. Y. C. tomorrow. Will be heard over the chain each evening except Saturdays and Sundays; JULES ALBERTI has returned to N. Y. C. from an engagement at the Congress Hall in Chicago. Will play in Asbury Park for the season. Heard on the air Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays; SAMMY WATKINS has signed with CBS. Comes from Cleveland and will play in New York this winter and be heard over Columbia wires; OZZIE NELSON plays this fall and winter in Philly. Heard over the chain Fridays and Saturdays. . . . AMOS 'N' ANDY'S picture "Check and Double Check" will be released throughout the country Oct. 24. . . . 236 hours of careful desk work and a horde of rehearsals are required for every Lucky Strike hour on the air. . . . PHILLIPS LORD holds the reputation of being the worst speller in the NBC. . . . SCRAPPY LAMBERT and BILLY HUGHES were pals at Rutgers U. After college days they became the radio Smith Brothers.

False Teeth Bite as He Runs Into Side of an Auto

When he ran into a moving car, Thomas J. Kilduff, 57, of 116 Milton ave., suffered a severe bite on the upper lip, inflicted by his own false teeth, in Dorchester yesterday.

Kilduff had jumped from the sidewalk on Granite ave. over a ditch into the roadway and was unable to check himself before he ran into the side of the car which was driven by Thomas Cross of 16 Johnson st., East Milton.

The teeth were demolished when they hit the street.

"PUT ON THE SPOT"

Goldie's eyes narrowed, but he continued to smile.

"Dirty Rap"

"That reminds me," he began in a slow, even voice. "You've shanghaied a certain little red-headed moll, who's done nothin'. Nothin' at all. She ain't got this dirty rap you slapped on her comin'." He paused. "You oughta go out and get the right guys—the wrong guys—the ones, Chief, what has done that job. You know as well as I do that a frail little jane like her ain't cut out for the clippin' racket. Why, she wouldn't have the heart to hurt a mouse."

The chief's face went bloodless. His hands worked quick and fast along the arms of his chair.

"Goldie," he began, "if you mean Polack Annie, you're weird. We got the goods on her. I hate to have to pinch a woman for murder, but it couldn't be helped. We found her lipstick in Kinky King's apartment."

"Say, Big Boy," said Goldie in the same even tone, "that Kinky King guy had a hundred twists in his twisted joint. How do you know but what that lipstick belonged to one o' them? And why would Polack Annie want to get him? There's plenty o' guys she could have had for the job. She knew it. She wouldn't have to smear them pretty little mitts o' her'n with no blood of a rat like Kinky King."

"You know they found a gold automatic in the room, too," said the chief, significantly.

Might Be Planted

"My God, you'd think they was Tong killers the way they leave them tools behind," chuckled Goldie, tapping a fresh cigarette on the Chief's desk. "Sounds like one of them stage shows where the detectives is always finding something the op'rator left behind. In my experience no good killer leaves no tip-offs. Of course, somethin' might be planted."

Goldie looked steadily at the Chief. But the Chief met his gaze unflinchingly.

"Nothing was planted, Goldie," he said.

Goldie's face hardened now. His look was steel. His smile was brazen. His voice rang quick and sharp like blows upon an anvil.

"Look here, Chief," he began. Let's you and me get right down to turkey. You think you're hidin' behind a blanket but you're behind a lace curtain to me. I see all 'at's goin' on in that noodle o' yourn. You're out to feed them fly newspaper boys with live stuff till this blows over. You want to give 'em pictures of a hot number an' a little sensation. But there ain't no use fall-guyin' a girl like Polack Annie who's sufferin' enough since the Edgewater Kid was popped off."

"You get me all wrong, Goldie," said the Chief, arising once more and beginning to pace up and down his appropriation carpet.

"I got you right!" Goldie's voice was clicking now. "I'll tell you, Chief, I want Annie sprung, and sprung quick. If it was a case o' right I'd string with you. But it's a case o' wrong. Let her out o' this."

Asking Too Much

"Goldie," and the Chief paused in his walk. "I can't do a thing—this time you're asking too much."

He pushed his hand downward, spreading out the fingers and shrugging with an air of finality. Goldie's attitude changed. He smiled—a wicked smile. With a leisurely movement he arose, flicked a speck from his immaculate coat sleeve, closed his long, strong, artistic finger about the head of his cane, and gave a little down tug to his hat brim.

"Oke, Chief," he grinned. He turned and walked to the door. Then he wheeled. "Listen. If you think you're runnin' this town you're crazy. There's a few others who have somethin' to say—see?" He chuckled. "If your crack is a challenge, Chief, I say — Oke! S'long."

Goldie blew a kiss to the Chief, smiled and walked out of the office. The Chief started to brace himself up in the chair-arms; then sank limply back again.

BIDDLE'S WIFE GOING TO RENO

New York, Oct. 2—The richest woman in the world, Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., has engaged a suite of rooms at the Riverside Hotel at Reno, Nev., scene of countless divorces, it was learned today.

Mrs. Biddle inherited the bulk of a fortune of $200,000,000 from her father, Benjamin H. Duke, the tobacco king, upon his death early this year. Since then society has heard rumors of discord between the husband and wife, both wealthy in their own right.

Mrs. Biddle denied today she was planning a divorce, but did not deny that an attorney who went West several days ago had engaged the best suite at the Riverside for her use.

The marriage of "Tony" Biddle and Mary Duke in 1915 was a brilliant event. They were extremely popular in society, but for the last two years their Palm Beach villa has been unoccupied and their absence put a damper on the gay life of the winter social capital.

Mrs. Grannis Dies at Lowell Rectory

Lowell, Oct. 2—Mrs. Annie Appleton Grannis, 80, widow of Charles Kelsey Grannis, and granddaughter of Gen. James Appleton, died last night in the rectory of St. Anne's Episcopal Church, where her son, the Rev. Appleton Grannis, is rector.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Annie Osgood Grannis of Lowell, and four sons, the Rev. Appleton Grannis, Arthur E. Grannis of Brookline, Pierpont E. Grannis of Greenwich, Ct., and James A. Grannis of Montclair, N. J. Funeral services will be held at St. Anne's Church Saturday at 12 o'clock.

Broker Sisto on Way From Europe

Paris, Oct. 2 (AP)—Officers of J. A. Sisto Co., brokerage concern suspended by the New York Stock Exchange as insolvent, said today that Sisto, who has been visiting European capitals, sailed yesterday for New York aboard the Majestic.

MARY HUNT is on the bill at the Silver Slipper Club tonight.

MARY HUNT ON OPENING BILL

The Silver Slipper, Boston night club, will celebrate its annual fall re-opening tonight. The management features Mary Angelina Hunt, formerly of Ziegfeld's Follies and vaudeville headliner.

Miss Hunt comes to the Silver Slipper with an array of songs and special material that should please the patrons.

O'Neil and Kelsey, who just completed 16 weeks engagement at the Kit Kat Club, London, are among the other features.

Shamrock V Ready to Sail

Providence, R. I., Oct. 2 (AP)—At the Herreshoff shipyards, Bristol, the Shamrock V, Sir Thomas Lipton's unsuccessful challenger for the America's Cup, was being prepared to start her journey back to the British Isles late today.

Governors Should Halt Grabbing of N. E. Rails

Officials Sleep as Lines Are Absorbed

While our public officials sleep, the Pennsylvania Railroad goes blithely ahead in its audacious attempt to gain control of our New England railroads.

The Pennsylvania and its dummy corporation, the Pennroad, have now acquired in excess of $50,000,000 of the securities of the Boston & Maine and the New Haven Railroads.

Their holdings now amount in effect to a dominant grip on the neck of those two historic railroads. These roads owe their creation and development to the genius of New England and their existence to the patronage of them by New England shippers and travelers.

New England knows that it has suffered through this generation at least the handicap of differential rates and services imposed upon it by alien steamship and railroad organizations.

New England knows that these handicaps can be enlarged and made disastrous if the control of her own railroads falls completely into the hands of a foreign system like the Pennsylvania, which will operate them not for benefit of New England but as the tail of the kite of its own system.

The manner in which the New Haven and the Boston & Maine were wrecked the last time they fell into the hands of Wall Street, and the wreckage of disorganized service strewn from Portland, Maine, to New York, should be too fresh in the minds of our New England people to permit such an economic holocaust to be suffered by them again.

> "The Pennsylvania group," we are told, "now have a dominant position not only in the New England field but also in the eastern trunk line situation through their control of at least five companies in the proposed fifth trunk line system."

There you have it. Plainly and boldly, the intent is to scramble the New Haven and Boston & Maine into a jumble of roads which will be headquartered in Wall Street, New York, and Broad Street, Philadelphia, and whose primary concern will be apart from the best interests of New England.

We are moving forward to this tragedy while our public officials engage in mental somnambulism.

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Eastman indignantly protests these encroachments into New England by the Pennsylvania. Not a responsible New England voice joins with him when, as a matter of fact, a chorus of protests that could rock Washington officialdom should be raised with unanimity here.

The Governors of the New England States select a commission which pretends it is unaware of the extent of the Pennsylvania's acquisition of our railroads at a time when the Pennsylvania is boldly announcing the impressive details of them.

The Governors should get rid of these dismally incompetent commissions. They should select some gentlemen of old-fashioned New England courage and vigor who can smash this indefensible railroad merger before it has New England completely at its mercy. Not a Governor who shirks this evident duty is worthy of re-election this Fall.

Still Young at 90

Justice Holmes Refuses to Grow Old

Oliver Wendell Holmes, aged 90, refuses to grow old.

He looks at a dour-faced portrait on the Supreme Court wall and says, "That bird was my grandfather."

He has always been brief and laconic; always unhampered by false and foolish dignity.

For forty years, as one of the American people's greatest lawyers and jurists, he has been saying to the avarice of predatory wealth, "That is wrong." He has been saying to all the just causes of human welfare, "That is right."

The people understand Justice Holmes. More important, he understands them. May he be ever young.

Jack Donahue

Jack Donahue has taken his last curtain call. He was one of the great American stage entertainers of all time. He was never quite too busy to lend a helping hand to those on the lower rungs of the ladder nor his fine talents to the many benefit performances for individual and collective charities. We respected him because he insisted upon clean shows as the vehicle of his ability and had no time for the filthy assortments that have disgraced the fine old profession. His home town is proud of Jack Donahue's memory.

Next Week's Mail

Postmaster Gow suggests that the people who will be in Boston next week should drop their mail into postal boxes outside the parade routes. Delay and difficulty thus may be avoided. What more need be said of the wisdom of this suggestion!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

Shameful Illiteracy in "Darkest America"

SUPPOSE you were a modern working girl—

With a good job and a neat little nestegg saved up—

Elsie Robinson

And the usual dreams of a rosy future—

Then suddenly along came A Young Man—

The most wonderful young man on earth—

But, unfortunately, almost the poorest!

Yet, nevertheless, you flopped.

Forgot all about your job and your future:

Went simply loco with love—

And, before you knew it, you were planning, when——

Then what would you do next?

Would you sit tight until the young man earned the wherewithal?

Would you tuck your money safely away and say: "It's up to you, kid"?

Or would you dig joyfully into the old sock and cry: "Here, darling, is my wad! What does it matter whose money it is as long as we both love? 'Tenyrate, it's as much my job as yours to furnish the house; so let's go down and look at the new radio!"

Which would you do? Margie H. wants to know. Here's her letter:

DEAR MISS ROBINSON:

Here is a problem several of us want you to settle.

There's a girl who is going to get married. She is a bright, hard working girl and she has saved quite a bit of money. Should she share that money with her husband, helping him furnish the house if he hasn't a cent?

My opinion is that the girl should keep her own money until she is sure that she can trust her husband to use it wisely. There are many cases where the woman gives the man her money—then after he gets it he leaves her flat. I think it is wise to find out what the man is like and if he can be trusted before being so big hearted.

On the other hand, some think that the woman should share all she has, since marriage is on a fifty-fifty basis. What do you think?

MARGIE H.

Perhaps just a careless letter from a giggly kid, but how it reflects the changing world! When before in the world's history did a girl have money of her own making to give—or keep? When was she able to put her man on trial? When could she safeguard her future by keeping an ace up her sleeve? And is it well for her that she can do these things now?

Will she gain, or lose, by this new independence? And what do you think of this idea of giving a man your body and your heart, when you can't quite trust him with your purse?

And how about the man? When, before, has a man had to stand on trial? When has he had to measure up to his wife's code and compete with her efficiency?

And what of marriage under these new conditions? Marriage is bound to be different—you must admit that. Take away all the old reasons for a woman's timidity and servility, take away all the old causes of a man's complacency—and what have you? The doom of marriage—or the salvation? The end of love—or perhaps the beginning of a true and fair relationship between men and women?

Which? What's your answer to it all?

If you were that girl would you save your money and put your man on trial? Or give him your complete trust with your love? And if you were that man what would you want your girl to do?

Let's hear. Write the editor of this paper. He wants to know.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

So-called Geniuses Owe Much to Their Wives

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—This is Ladies' Day in this spire of sapience. Any man who doesn't care for the idea can hunt up a nice dock, yoo-hoo for me and I'll give him a lovely running push. With love and kisses! Most of the so-called geniuses I know should be hopping counters.

• • •

And they would be were it not for wives, mothers or sweethearts. But do the ladies get credit? Almost every man will resent the implication that his wife had anything to do with his financial success. He is always self-made, the liar. Nobody helped him, no sir-ee! We columnists, for instance, are so busy blabbing about ourselves we rarely mention patient souls in the background who keep us from appearing in public with one shoe black, the other tan, or perhaps a dragging garter. I know one who can pose for a bag of soiled laundry even on Sunday.

• • •

And you know what—there are three novelists who cannot comb their hair. Eighty per cent of the geniuses in private are dunkers and gravy soppers. Most of the bright things they say at dinner parties were voiced by their wives across the breakfast table. And don't let them kid you!

• • •

I am not hazarding a guess in announcing one of the superlative wits of the banquet boards has his speeches written for him. I happen to know his wife has prepared them for years. And she, bless her heart, is the type they refer to as "an old-fashioned soul and a bit dowdy." She's the keenest wise-cracker in town.

The ladies have been mighty fine sports about it all. They take clip after clip on the chin without a whimper. They will beam when someone gushes:

"Your husband is so mentally alert—so brilliant. It must be wonderful to be in his company so much. So stimulating!"

All the time they know the dumbbell talks to himself in the bath, can't spell a three-syllable word without flying to the dictionary, sits around mooning like a sick calf when things go wrong, and has to be constantly pepped up with flattery. If he is stimulating, so is ether.

• • •

The bravest of men—and if any men have read this far they are suckers—are not nearly so brave as the average woman. It is my slovenly custom to evade issues. In matters of no importance I often say one thing and mean another. But my wife, like most every other wife, faces each problem squarely. Softly feminine, in emergencies she is surprisingly adamantine. She won't be bluffed. And that is true of every other good woman.

• • •

The economic crisis developed a brand of feminine spunk that was the huckleberries. While two-fisted men were fluttering around—What to do! What to do!—over the loss of mere "paper profits," there were women, two of my acquaintance, who accepted the loss of important secretarial jobs without a murmur and became housemaids until the storm blew over.

• • •

I once saw a theater audience gripped in stark terror by a sudden puff of smoke. As it crouched perilously to plunge for exits, a young girl as fragile as Lillian Gish scrambled upon the stage and shouted:

"If any man leaves this theater before I do, he is a miserable coward."

And thus was a panic averted.

• • •

The weaker sex—two ha ha's and a rousing ho ho! I have seen any number of women who could drink a table of men smack under it and clap hands to go places. The inveterate female smoker will puff twice as many cigarettes as the inveterate male. This is not particularly to their credit, but it is a physiological fact. Ask any doctor who is braver in affliction.

• • •

I remember when it was said women could not prosper in the hard-boiled world of the theater. It was too rough. But along came Anne Nichols with her mediocre "Abie's Irish Rose," and with little managerial experience made more money than Ziegfeld ever made out of a "Follies."

There is scarcely any calling a woman cannot pursue with the finesse of the man, and I have looked into the matter deeply, with the possible exception of kettle drumming. I know they excel at the zither, though.

• • •

I hope my wife doesn't read all this extravagant praise for the ladies. If she does—look for me in the necklace department of Tiffany's, the sad-eyed, long-faced bird with the thin neck.

Better Than Polo Ponies

Two Fine Children

Society folk have the reputation of squandering money on foolish amusements. Many do. But not all.

Take Mr. and Mrs. John Tyson, of Haverford, Pa.

Mr. Tyson is socially prominent and comparatively wealthy. Mrs. Tyson, a granddaughter of E. T. Stotesbury, noted financier, is even more socially prominent and is EXTREMELY wealthy.

Married three years, they have had no children. Several months ago they adopted a little boy from a New York orphanage. Last week it was learned that they had adopted another from a Philadelphia institution.

Two children are much happier in a family than one, Mrs. Tyson explains, with wisdom rare in a woman of twenty-two.

The first Tyson boy has been christened Christopher Gilbert. He is 18 months old. The second, a blue-eyed blond of 5 months, will be named Sydney Hutchinson for Mrs. Tyson's father, rich Philadelphian.

Happy children, to be brought up amid wealth and refinement by two such fine foster-parents as Mr. and Mrs. Tyson must be.

And HAPPIER parents, with two fine boys to be watched over and educated, and to carry on their name after they themselves are dead, buried and forgotten.

All of us may be immortal—at least we are told so, and hope it is true. But the only immortality of which we can be certain on earth is the immortality given us by our children and our children's children, down through uncounted generations.

Something of US survives in THEM.

To bring up children, watch them grow to maturity, and live AGAIN in them is a better use for a million dollars than to buy polo ponies for an international match or to build a yacht for the defense of the America's Cup.

Sex Reversal Seems Possible

IN THE year 1474 a remarkable trial took place in the Swiss town of Basle. A barnyard cock had laid an egg. With all due formality it was tried for witchcraft, sentenced and publicly burned.

Such sexual aberrations in fowls are not excessively rare. Crowing hens are sufficiently well-known phenomena to figure in a rhymed proverb:

"A whistling maid and a crowing hen
Are neither fit for God nor men."

A bird ceases to lay, her comb enlarges and she begins to crow. Some go farther and exhibit male behavior—they fight with cocks and pay court to hens. This is not uncommon.

In very rare cases, however, the transformation proceeds to its logical conclusion and the bird changes its sex completely.

Profesor Crew, for instance, reports on a three-year-old Buff Orpington which, after being a good layer and a mother of chickens, ceased to lay, grew spurs and practiced crowing.

Next season her plumage became male, her crow lusty, her behavior masculine. Isolated with an unfamed pullet, the transformed hen became a father.

But, whatever the cause, the fact remains: sex-reversal is possible to a warm-blooded vertebrate, even after it has become adult.

In frogs the normal chromosome machinery can be overridden in various ways.

Keeping the early embryos at a high temperature increases the percentage of males, and so does acid water, while a water shortage (e. g., keeping the eggs only just moist) increases the proportion of females.

Most effective of all is making the mother retain her eggs for three or four days after they are fully ripe. Such "overripe" eggs, when fertilized, produce 90 to 100 per cent of males instead of the usual 50-50 ratio.

These cases differ from the guinea pigs of the last section because the reversal is complete. It affects the gonads. In the guinea pigs the hormones were upset; it was the so-called accessory sexual characters that were altered.

But in these fowls and frogs the action is on a different link of the casual chain. It is the development of the gonad itself which is attacked.

By similar reasoning it can be shown that if a male turned into a female be mated with a normal male the next generation will include two males to every female. And these expectations are confirmed in practice.
